HOOVER REPORTS

U.S. No. 1 Enemy Of Mao Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China has singled out the United States as its No. 1 enemy and is working to tap needed scientific information here by any means, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says.

"The potent threat to our national security posed by Red China still exists," is the way Hoover phrased it. "In fact, the blatant, belligerent and illogical statements made by Red China's spokesmen during the past year leave no doubt that the United States is Communist China's No. 1 enemy."

Hoover's warning was delivered behind closed doors last April to a House appropriations subcommittee. His testimony was released today.

"This bitterness towards the United States and other Western countries—even the Soviet Union—is a factor in Red China's ambition to equal other major powers economically, militarily and, especially, in scientific endeavors," Hoover said.

This goal, Hoover said, has resulted in Chinese Communist intelligence activities here — overt as well as covert—to get needed material, particularly in the scientific field.

The FBI chief said one clandestine effort was thwarted in 1967 when an effort was made to send electronic equipment to Hong Kong by way of Canada.

Hoover said informants have made "deep penetrations in intelligence operations" in this country by Communist countries, particularly the Soviet Union, Cuba and Red China.

But, without specifying which countries, Hoover said these Communist intelligence services also try to penetrate his own FBI, the CIA, State and Defense Departments. He didn't mention the degree of success.

Numerous Delays At New Hall

By DAVID DIETZ

Dust-covered and debris-littered, the $11.7 million Hall of Justice at the Marin County Civic Center resembles a factory-fresh car in need of a final cleaning.

What's bothering county officials and the project architect is the time being taken to complete what appear to be little more than housekeeping chores. (See pictures, page 22.)

The Hall of Justice, which joins the Marin County administration building, has been more than 96 per cent complete since early this year, but no one can safely predict when it will be finished.

The three-story, 858-foot-long building originally had been scheduled for completion last October, but there have been numerous delays—announced in August, October, December, February and April—because of strikes, bad weather, construction changes and late deliveries.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said his office still points, however, to a Sept. 1 opening announced in April.

Aaron Green, architect for the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, says that representatives of the general contractor, Robert E. McKee of Dallas, Tex., have told him the building will be ready for final inspection July 25.

"We believe that's quite optimistic," Green said. He explained there was a long list of projects to be completed but not enough men were on the job.

He blamed the subcontractors. "It's just a matter of finishing up the building," Green said. "There are many areas in which work needs to be done—cabinet installation,

Nixon Will Stop In San Francisco

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Richard M. Nixon will fly to San Francisco July 22 for an overnight stay before proceeding to the Pacific for his globe trip and homecoming ceremony with the Apollo 11 astronauts after their moon flight.

The White House announced that the chief executive would fly to San Francisco but had no plan scheduled for the California stop.

Some NASA scientists were already waiting this morning at Hickman Air Force Base, Hawaii, where the space capsule will be taken. Others were en route by air from Ames Research Center here.

The technique for recovering the space craft was perfected in Hawaii in the Discoverer series a few years ago. Biosatellite 2, which contained only electronic gear, was air recovered Sept. 9, 1967.

A lumbering C119 "Flying Boxcar," trailing a trapeze like device, snags the parachute lowering the space capsule from orbit and reels it into the plane—much like a fish on a line.

Bonny had just completed 8½ days and 130 orbits last night when NASA's tracking station at Santiago, Chile, detected danger signals.

A spokesman at the Ames center said the monkey refused to drink water, showed a lowering metabolic rate and appeared in a deeper state of rest than normal.

Bonny's 30-day trip was to have provided the most detailed study ever made of the effects of weightlessness on a terrestrial creature similar to man.

FINCH ROLE CORRECT, SAYS WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House confirmed today as accurate the report that Robert H. Finch was Richard Nixon's first choice for the vice presidential nomination. (See another story, page 2.)

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler confirmed the account in response to questions about Theodore White's article in the current Life magazine, an excerpt from his latest book "The Making of the President 1968."

White said Finch declined the nomination and within hours Nixon announced Spiro T. Agnew as his choice.

Music Idol Death: Alcohol, Drugs

LONDON (AP) — Pop music idol and former Rolling Stone Brian Jones drowned last week "while under the influence of alcohol and drugs," a coroner ruled today.

The 26-year-old ex-lead guitarist with the Stones died last Thursday during a late-night swim in the pool of his luxury country home.

Janel Lawson, a registered nurse and a friend of Jones, said at the inquest Jones was "in no fit condition" to swim the night he met his death. He had been drinking and "disregarded" a warning not to swim, she added.

"They cannot be expected to serve as what amounts to defenseless targets in a shooting gallery," U Thant said.

Cong Stage Sneak Attack On U.S. Military Outpost

First Ground Attack In A Week; Six GIs Killed

SAIGON (AP)—Viet Cong forces today launched their first ground attack in a week, blasting their way into a U.S. military headquarters with grenades and dynamite bombs.

The attack 120 miles northeast of Saigon killed six Americans and wounded 18.

U.S. headquarters said "damage to material within the camp was moderate," but field reports said three or four armored personnel carriers were blown up and destroyed and at least one was damaged.

The only known enemy casualties were two soldiers found inside the district headquarters, a spokesman said.

U.S. headquarters said it was mortar barrage that pinned down the 150 American defenders. The Americans are part of Task Force South that operates in the southernmost foothills of the central plateau.

The sappers blasted their way into the headquarters hurling hand grenades and satchel charges—sticks of dynamite wired together, the U.S. command said.

No other significant enemy ground attacks were reported during the past 24 hours, but allied battlefield communiques said patrolling U.S. and South Vietnamese forces killed 103 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers. U.S. casualties in these scattered skirmishes were eight killed and 39 wounded, while South Vietnamese losses were four killed and five wounded.

The U.S. Navy reported today the heavy cruiser Boston was fired on by enemy shore gunners while operating off South Vietnam Sunday. It said four bursts of automatic weapons fire landed about 1,000 yards from the ship, which took evasive action. The Boston was not hit.

The Navy said Boston did not return the enemy fire "due to friendly forces in the area."

The Boston is one of four cruisers in the Vietnam War.

The sources said the Viet Cong are preparing for another three-point campaign scheduled for late July—increased terrorism linked with stepped up battlefield activity, propagandizing and creating "general disturbances."

Critical Congress Must Yet Come To Grips With College Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, which has criticized colleges for failing to deal with student uprisings, is having a hard time itself coming to grips with the problem.

Dozens of bills have been introduced, scores of speeches made and committees have spent weeks studying the situation but Congress is still not sure what, if anything, it should do.

The problem is much the same as on many campuses: Sharply conflicting views as to what might be a proper course of action canceling each other out and producing confusion and indecision.

Some tactics used by student agitators have also appeared in the halls of Congress. A boycott by members opposed to legislation effectively shut down the House Education and Labor Committee when a majority appeared ready to approve a bill.

The committee, which has prime responsibility for guiding Congress in this area, has borne the brunt of the battle and its failure to reach any kind of agreement illustrates the conflicting forces working on Congress.

It began looking into the problem in the early spring when the gap started rising in the student radicals and riots bloomed on campuses across the land.

The pressure for committee action mounted as the flow of mail denouncing the campus

rioters increased in congressional offices and members responded by introducing bills that would deal harshly with the

leagues and students involved.

It was in an effort to head off such stringent legislation that Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., chairman of the subcommittee with direct authority to act, tried to find a solution. But she had no encouragement from a parade of college officials and other educators who said it was their problem and the cause of academic freedom required Congress to stay out of it.

She also received no encouragement from the administration, which sent Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare

Nixon Wanted Finch To Run, Writer Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon didn't offer the Republican vice presidential nomination to Spiro T. Agnew until Robert Finch turned it down, Theodore H. White says in the current issue of Life magazine.

Finch, currently the secretary of health, education and welfare, told Nixon "he could be a better friend and adviser than a running mate," White said, in an excerpt from his forthcoming book, "The Making of the President 1968."

White said Nixon picked Agnew over former Massachusetts Gov. John Volpe, now secretary of transportation, after Republicans and conservatives had ruled out each other's choices.

CROSS-VETOED

Conservatives and Southerners vetoed New York Mayor John V. Lindsay and Sens. Charles Percy of Illinois and Mark Hatfield of Oregon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan; liberals turned down Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and Sen. John Tower of Texas, according to White.

Finch, a longtime friend and campaign adviser of Nixon, said his choice as Nixon's running mate would "smack of nepotism," White said.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said there would be no immediate comment.

The Nixon-Finch relationship was strained recently when Nixon overruled Finch's choice of Dr. John H. Knowles as assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs.

White said those present when the choice of Agnew was made were Finch; Tower; H. R. Haldeman of Nixon's staff; John Mitchell, campaign adviser and now attorney general; aide Robert Ellsworth and Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, now Republican national chairman.

IMPRESSION

Agnew, White said, made a strong impression on Nixon during nominating night at the GOP convention in Miami Beach.

"Nixon, watching TV in his hotel room, thought Agnew's speech nominating him was the best, and he was enormously impressed by the man with the square-cut jaw, the athletic frame, the commanding presence on the screen. He had met Agnew only four months before for the first time, had seen him only three or four times since, but felt Agnew had 'authority,' was 'solid,'" White said.

"Yet Nixon himself preferred, above all others, Robert Finch of California. Finch was to him a younger brother, closer, more trusted, more conspicuously able and more visionary than any other man he had known over the year," White added.

More than 1 million children are now enrolled in New York City schools.

MONUMENTAL POINT—Negro civil rights leader Charles Evers pointed to a Confederate monument in downtown Fayette, Miss., yesterday on the eve of his inauguration to day as mayor of the town of 1,600 which is 75 per cent Negro. (AP Wirephoto)

Civil Rights Leader New Mayor Of Southern Town

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP) — Charles Evers, who came home from Chicago in 1963 to take up the civil rights work of his slain brother Medgar, today becomes the first Negro mayor of a biracial Mississippi town.

Nearly two months ago Evers, 46, won by a two-to-one margin the $75 per month post previously held by white men in a town of 1,600 which is 75 per cent Negro.

To celebrate, Evers is staging a festive parade through the streets to the Jefferson County Courthouse, where he will receive the oath of office from Tom Thompson, a Negro justice of the peace. An inaugural ball at Natchez will cap the day's activities.

A celebration also was scheduled in the city park.

"You know, this is the same park where Negroes were not allowed before," Evers said. "The only time a Negro could enter the park was with a white baby. But this has changed. We are going to serve punch right under the statue of Thomas Jefferson."

Evers, state field director for the NAACP, does not foresee an easy road as mayor of Fayette, a dusty town in the midst of an area which once was a Ku Klux Klan stronghold.

One major problem he and his black administration face is that of pepping up a lagging economy with new business.

Also, after his election, whites on the police force resigned rather than work under a black administration.

"I guess we will just have to operate with an all-black police department for the present," said Evers. "But I am still looking for some whites to join us in helping Fayette grow."

Evers promised as one of his first official acts to outlaw the carrying of firearms in the town. He views this and other planned ordinances as moves to

Deadly Gift To Al Fatah Chief Fails

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat received a package containing a bomb yesterday, but it was dismantled before it went off, sources reported today.

They said the package addressed to the Al Fatah leader was intercepted and disarmed by specialists at the Palestine Liberation Organization headquarters in Amman. Arafat, PLO chairman was in his office at the time.

The informants said the package carried a forged Iraqi army stamp.

Sources reported Arafat was in Damascus today.

News of the attempted assassination spread in Amman, Beirut and other Middle East capitals. It came only a few days after a meeting between several Arab guerrilla groups at which they were reported to have resolved their differences.

Tension in Amman had heightened last week after a Jordanian government and army reshuffle that placed what the guerrillas consider unfriendly elements in top army and security posts.

Guerrillas recently launched a series of bomb attacks on leading Israeli military men in the occupied West Bank of Jordan. Yesterday a guerrilla lobbed hand grenades at the headquarters of the military governor of Nablus; in the past several weeks there have been numerous grenade throwing incidents at Israeli officers and one Arab assassin tried to stab a top Israeli officer in the streets of Hebron but was killed before he could get near him.

The 20-year-old heir to the British throne and his sister will be the guests of the governor-general Sir Maurice Dorman, and Lady Dorman.

Soviet Air Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The Soviet airline, Aeroflot, has carried more passengers in the first year of direct air travel between New York and Moscow than Pan American World Airways. But both lines say they are satisfied with the results.

Aeroflot estimated its one-year haul at 10,000 passengers from New York to Sheremetovo, the airport outside Moscow. Pan Am said it has carried about 6,000.

The two lines cooperate and serve as general sales agents for each other in the other's country.

Knowles Rips Conservative Nixon Stand

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. John H. Knowles, rejected by President Richard M. Nixon for the nation's top health post, says the White House under Nixon "is in the grip of the arch-conservatives and progress is at a complete standstill."

He said the influence of conservative pressure groups on the President was "absolutely catastrophic."

"Nothing has changed in this country in the last five months; the crisis, in fact, has deepened," Knowles said yesterday in an interview on the WKBG-TV "Point of View" program.

FIRST CHOICE

Knowles, director of Massachusetts General Hospital, had been the first choice of Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, to be assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs. Nixon later nominated Dr. Roger O. Egerberg for the post.

Knowles predicted that with the "arch-conservative bandwagon running the White House, there is going to be a further delay on school desegregation. In fact, HEW Secretary Robert Finch is going to have it tough being squashed at every turn."

Knowles was quoted today in the New York Times as saying he doubted that the conservatism of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., one of the chief opponents of Knowles' appointment, forced Nixon to veto Knowles' appointment.

"It is entirely conceivable that Sen. Dirksen was in fact fronting for President Nixon" in opposing the nomination, Knowles said in the Times interview.

In the television interview here, the doctor suggested that Finch may have to resign his Cabinet post "if his position is going to become impossible."

"No, I certainly won't buy him (Nixon) again," Knowles said. "The reason I backed Nixon before was only because I thought he could get us out of Vietnam effectively."

"And I still say, if he can get us out of Vietnam—all will be forgiven."

"Actually, what this country needs at this point is leadership, not somebody just fingering the pulse and playing to the masses," he said.

Knowles said his nomination was rejected "because I'm not anybody's pigeon—including the AMA's (American Medical Association)—and—speak out and tell it like it is."

"Medicaid is the lousiest waste of taxpayers' money and the most ill-conceived program which ever came down the chute," he said.

Sea Scout Dies Near Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A 19-year-old Sea Scout from San Francisco died yesterday while on an outing at Steamboat Slough about 15 miles south of Sacramento.

Coroner's deputies said James Ross Silvers, of 645 Bush Street, apparently drowned but an autopsy would be performed to determine the cause of death.

They said he encountered trouble while swimming and was helped to shore where first aid was administered. He was pronounced dead at a hospital.

Jackie's Directives Reveal Concern Over Liquor Flow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Excerpts of Jacqueline Onassis' memos reveal her concerns as First Lady with too much liquor at the White House, the cost of clothes, newswomen "harpies," and a comedian's references to her children, says the Knight Newspaper Syndicate.

In a copyright story by Vera Glaser and Malvina Stephenson a direction to the White House staff to refill half-empty cocktail glasses "even if a few people do get hepatitis" was the former Jackie Kennedy's way of tossing off a quip.

JACKIE'S NOTES

In one vote, she said "I have never sent out one memo that I would have minded the world seeing the worst thing I have ever said is about the Archbishop of Canterbury's wife." This was not disclosed, however.

"Liquor often flows too freely here," she wrote the White House housekeeper, "and I find it as abhorrent to hear a reception turning into drunken laughter as I do to hear loud jazz crashing through the East Room."

"No one should ever get drunk in the White House; so will you see that at stag affairs and official receptions—especially the Judiciary—liquor flows much more slowly."

"... People should get one drink immediately, have to do a little waiting or beckoning for a second one, and really make it impossible for them to have a third."

PARIS CLOTHES

In writing to Mrs. John Mowinkel in Paris, one of her fashion "scouts," she made one of her frequent mentions of trying to economize in this area:

"You are so sweet to write me such a long letter about all the heavenly clothes in Paris... However, by some strange mercy of the gods, I have a very light social season this spring—also, trunk loads of clothes left over from India last year, and for two trips to Brazil which we never took."

"So I am really going to economize the one time I can," she said, adding that one especially appealing suit could be borrowed from her sister, Lee Radziwill, if necessary.

In one three-month period she spent $15,000 on clothes, the memos showed.

After she and the President watched comedian Vaughn Meader on television, she wrote to aide Pam Turnure:

"JFK says it's okay if you call him (Meader) which is probably safer than writing, and say that Mrs. Kennedy finds it in appalling taste that he should make money out of a 5-year-old child," referring to the median's satires.

"Tell him I don't care what he says about us—but the fact that he dares mention my children's names to make himself an extra dollar, I don't like that—I would just like him to know that I consider him a rat as far as the children are concerned."

In another memo, she said "JFK was a bit disturbed last night about the press ladies" at a White House function. "They hang around and make everyone nervous..."

Changes in press ground rules should come from Pierre Salinger, she said to Pam Turnure, "... as it is not fair to pit you against the harpies. Also, they might take it better from a

HERSHEY SPEAKS OUT

Volunteer Draft Force Impossible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who has directed the national Selective Service System for 28 years, thinks the day is past when the United States can depend on volunteers alone for its military defense.

It just won't work, the 75-year-old general has told Congress. Here is how he expressed himself on the subject in closed-door testimony made public recently by the House Appropriations Committee:

"If we are going to go to a volunteer force (a concept endorsed by President Richard M. Nixon) once the war in Vietnam is over, it will take the most clever manipulation to be able to keep our armed forces up to the size we have to have in order to survive and at the same time make a switch-over. That is going to be a very difficult thing. I just don't happen to believe in it."

COMPULSORY DRAFT

The compulsory military draft, which has affected the lives of 37 million American males since the basic law was passed just prior to World War II, probably never has been under such heavy criticism as it is today.

Much of the criticism comes from the young, especially on the nation's college campuses.

terors set off a bomb in a theater in Can Tho City in the Mekong Delta, 76 miles southwest of Saigon, killed one Vietnamese child and another civilian and wounded 36 government soldiers and 27 civilians.

U.S. headquarters reported an Air Force F100 fighter-bomber and an Army OH6 light observation helicopter were shot down by enemy gunners over the weekend. One American was wounded.

In Saigon, police sources reported two young terrorist have told of stepped up Viet Cong efforts to infiltrate terrorists in the 13-17 age group, youths old enough to carry out terror activities but young enough not to require identification papers.

Man Jailed For Biting, Kicking

A San Francisco man was jailed yesterday after he reportedly bit and kicked a Sausalito policeman when arrested near Nine Del Mar Plaza, police said.

Richard Charles Stippmann, 24, was booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of being under the influence of drugs and resisting arrest. He was held in lieu of $625 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said they saw Stippmann at 9 p.m. on El Portal, acting as though drunk or hallucinating. He reportedly was abusive to officers, then when arrested, kicked and bit Patrolman George Chilimidos. He was subdued when another officer arrived.

Bar Association Given Ford Grant

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Ford Foundation announced the award of a $200,000 grant today to the American Bar Association to help involve lawyers in the development of moderate and low-income housing.

The foundation said the funds, which will go to the ABA's fund for public education, will help train minority group lawyers in dealing with complex housing laws.

Moscow Film Festival Opens Two-Week Run

MOSCOW (AP) — The Moscow Film Festival opened today, a battle of art and propaganda in which cinematic quality often takes a back seat to Kremlin-sanctioned political themes.

The two-week program is heavily weighted with entries from Moscow's political friends in the Middle East and Asia. The Soviet press treats such films as equals of British, French, Italian and American entries.

Council Meeting

The Corte Madera Town Council will consider adoption of its revised business license ordinance and the introduction of an updated electrical ordinance at its 7:30 p.m. meeting today in town hall.

Their opposition to the law stems mostly from the frustrations surrounding the Vietnamese war and the resentment of some young men because they are faced with fighting in a war of which they strongly disapprove on moral grounds.

But it isn't only the young who are unhappy with the system. Many adults, including some in Congress, support their contention that the draft is inequitable as it now stands and that some better way should be devised to meet the nation's military manpower needs.

AMONG PROPOSALS

Among proposals for change, one of the most widely discussed is a switch to an all-volunteer system after the United States gets out of Vietnam. General Hershey is not the only objector. Various objections other than his have been raised, including the argument that an all-volunteer force might become largely black because many Negroes would see a better future in uniform than on the civilian job market. These critics contend white enlistments would fall off without the threat of a draft.

Some military leaders also have expressed doubt they could meet their manpower needs through an all-volunteer system. It is General Hershey, however, who has been among the more outspoken opponents of the volunteer concept, and he gave his views in detail to the appropriations committee on the volunteer army and other issues. From the record, here is part of what he said:

"I do not (think it will work). Since the draft has been in effect, when you get 60 per cent or more of the volunteers out of our examined and accepted pool, you can see this is what is keeping the volunteering going. I think any recruiter will say that . . .

PAY ISSUE

"I know, of course, they are going to talk about raising pay, and I must say I am not overly enthusiastic about being able to raise pay enough to be competitive because in the first place, your industry generally keeps well ahead of us."

"The next thing is that I do have misgivings, as old men do, of having a person to go into something for no other reason than to get money. On the other hand, if they could raise the prestige of the armed forces, they might help recruiting a great deal. How to do it, I do not know."

"One of the things you have to worry about is that up to corporal you pay as much as a sergeant. Does anybody want to be harassed as a sergeant when he can get just as much money? I remember once I said to a corporal, 'I'll make you a sergeant.' He said, 'I don't want to be a sergeant. I don't want seven or eight runny noses that I have to be responsible for, not for $3 a month.' Three dollars a month was quite a lot of money in those days. Now I would expect that $10 or $15 or $20 differential might not be any more inducive than $3 was then."

"Personally I think, if you hinge it (the volunteer army) on the Vietnamese war, you have an immediate problem of going exclusively to recruiting. The Vietnamese war is not over. I did not make it and I have had to support it because I am in the place I am. But there is no use talking about it.

"I do not think there is any doubt about the endeavors of the Chinese crewmen in the United States in fiscal 1967, and this accounted for more than 80 per cent of the total desertions by Chinese crewmen throughout the world during that year.

"It is significant to note that desertions by Chinese crewmen jumped to some 930 during the 1968 fiscal year."

BELIEVE IN NATION

"I just happen to believe in the country. In fact, I worry sometimes if a lot of people I know, if they get awfully tired of some of this. I am a little afraid what they might do. Maybe it should be done. I do not think so. Mob rule is not good even if it is our mob."

"There is certainly money behind it and I don't know where the money is coming from because we are not investigating in nature. When you can get some 100 lawyers in San Francisco to say if you want to bring suit against the Selective Service in any way we are available without cost, somebody is furnishing some money. Personally, I do not believe they are going to get anywhere."

"Unfortunately, before this committee I have to say they are making it cost more money for me."

Body Of Man Is Identified

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A man found floating off Fort Baker last Wednesday has been identified as a 57-year-old unemployed bartender.

The dead man, Jack Peter Cafcalas, lived in a San Francisco hotel, San Francisco Deputy Coroner Mark R. Alleeson reported.

The cause of his death has not been determined, pending results from pathology and toxicology studies. Alleeson said the body had been in the water four to five hours before being found by the Coast Guard at 8:10 a.m., he said.

Alleeson discounted the possibility Cafcalas had jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge because his clothes were not torn.

Cafcalas is survived by his wife, Esther, of Los Angeles.

President Cancels Astronaut Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has canceled arrangements to dine with the Apollo 11 astronauts on the night before their takeoff for the moon. The White House said she was seeking.

In the end she was without the support of her own subcommittee and transferred the fight to the full committee, where a coalition of Republicans and senior Democrats produced a shaky majority for a bill that would require colleges to establish rules of conduct for students and faculty and file them with the government. Failure to do so would result in a loss of federal education funds.

The decision was reached in conjunction with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the aftermath of recommendations by a NASA doctor, Charles Berry, who warned that an element of germ contamination might be involved.

The decision came as the president ended a Fourth of July holiday in Florida which included a round of winning golf with comic Jackie Gleason.

Art, Garden Fair Draws 31,000

Beautiful summer weather enticed 6,667 visitors to the Marin Art and Garden Show yesterday prior to the gates closing last night after a five-day run.

Manager Marcelle McCoy reported a total attendance of 31,004, a drop of 3,500 from the 34,504 visitors last year.

The reason for the drop, Mrs. McCoy suggested, was that last year's fair had a Japanese theme and this drew about 5,000 Japanese Americans from the Bay Area.

Daily attendance for this year's fair was: Wednesday, 2,140; Thursday, 4,629; Friday, 8,260; Saturday, 8,658 and Sunday, 6,667. Advance ticket sales for the overall period totalled 1,250.

Cape Town Quarter To Be Reconstructed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Cape Town's Malay quarter, housing the descendants of slaves shipped from the old Dutch East Indies, will be reconstructed as a historical relic.

The City Council was told the government would pay about half of the Rands 677,000 ($947,000) cost of restoring some of the white-washed colonial-style cottages.

Several members who have separately introduced bills more repressive than the one the House committee rejected are now working together to see if they can agree on just such a rider.

HOOVER

Turning to Communist China, Hoover said:

"Red China has been flooding the country with its propaganda and there are over 300,000 Chinese in the United States, some of whom could be susceptible to recruitment either through ethnic ties or hostage situations because of their positions in Communist China."

In addition, up to 20,000 Chinese immigrants can come here each year "and this provides a means to send illegal agents into our nation." He said there are active Chinese Communists sympathizers in the Western Hemisphere in a position to aid in operations against this country.

A growing problem concerns the 40,000 Hong Kong based Chinese seaman, many actually living on the China mainland. "We are aware of situations where they have served as couriers in intelligence operations."

On any given day, Hoover said, three-fourths of these crewmen are on ships around the world and about 27,000 are members of the Chinese Communist-dominated Hong Kong Seamen's Union.

However said there are thousands of entries made by these crewmen into U.S. cities each year when their ships dock here.

(Hershey was questioned about the significance of the sharp rise in draft appeals from 9,741 at the state level in 1965 to an estimated 170,211 this year.)

"I do not think there is any doubt about the endeavors of the Chinese crewmen in the United States in fiscal 1967, and this accounted for more than 80 per cent of the total desertions by Chinese crewmen throughout the world during that year.

"It is significant to note that desertions by Chinese crewmen jumped to some 930 during the 1968 fiscal year."

RECRUIT SCHEDULE

"Since 1940 I have a schedule that shows the influence on recruiting. You can figure that about 60 days in advance of induction when the call goes out, if it is a big call then you will get an up in recruiting. If it is a little call, that is when recruiting slows down . . .

"On the other hand, I do not know whether the armed forces or whoever studies it can come up with new incentives . . . There is no way in heaven they can tell how many people they can recruit. They have to try."

"I think if we remove the obligation from the young fellow, you are doing him a disfavor because in the first place he has just as much obligation for survival whether the law provides it or whether it does not. If we ever come to a showdown the Congress will place it on him immediately. I think we kid a youngster sometimes by telling him he doesn't have an obligation because the law does provide it."

Six Die In Wrong Way Ramp Crash

SANTA ANA (AP) — Six persons died as a car roared 60 miles per hour the wrong way onto a freeway off-ramp, swerving around a sheriff's deputy and smashed head-on into another car.

Killed were Moises Cruz Garcia, 36, driver of the wrong-way car, his passenger and four of five Marines in the second car returning to base yesterday morning.

Officers said the Garcia car went against traffic up the 17th Street off-ramp from the Santa Ana Freeway as the deputy was driving down. He used red lights and siren to warn the motorist, who dodged him, traveled a few hundred yards and hit the other car, also going about 60 mph.

Police theorized that Garcia, thought to be a Mexican national, may have been unable to read the reflectorized red "wrong way" signs marking the off-ramp.

The dead Marines, all from El Toro Marine Air Station, were identified as First Lt. John H. Baker, 24, of Santa Ana, the driver; Pvt. John R. Miller, 21, Huntington, Pa.; Pvt. Daniel G. Buehler, 20, Oriskany, N.Y., and Pvt. John W. Nolan, 24, hometown unlisted.

The passenger in Garcia's car was unidentified.

Cpl. Harry M. Herbert, 20, of Florida, was in serious condition in Santa Ana Community Hospital with a fractured skull, internal injuries, and broken left arm.

A third car attempted to swerve around the crash and sideswiped the Garcia car, injuring the occupants. Elaine Townsend, 34, of San Diego, the driver and her mother, Leola Townsend, 69. Both suffered cuts, bruises and scrapes.

Church Gives $15,000 To Negro Cause

NEW YORK (AP) — A Greenwich Village church gave the National Black Economic Development Conference $15,000 yesterday in "reparations" for past injustices to Negroes.

Black militant James Forman, chief spokesman for the conference, watched as Althea Alexander of Los Angeles, a member of the NBEDC steering committee, picked up the check from Charles Lerrigo, an elder at the Washington Square United Methodist Church.

Forman told the congregation it was the first predominantly white religious group to contribute to the organization, which is seeking $500 million from churches and synagogues.

Forman said he is "convinced the Nixon administration is going to try to indict some of us on extortion or conspiracy charges." He said a federal grand jury was active in Detroit, where the conference was organized last April.

Mrs. Alexander said the 27-member steering committee would decide next week how to use the gift.

About 150 persons attended the service at the self-described "peace church," a frequent participant in controversial causes. It has opened its doors to draft resisters and spokesmen for the Black Panther party.

Its parent body the United Methodist Church, has rejected Forman's demand for reparations.

Teen-Ager Booked As Burglary Suspect

Thomas Roger Lescobier, 16, of 407 Magee Avenue, Mill Valley, was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday on suspicion of burglary after police reportedly found him in a house on Ralston Avenue.

Emmy Sylvester of 168 Ralston Avenue called police at 2:57 a.m. when she heard noises and a window breaking. Police said they caught Lescobier inside.

TOURING CRIMEA

Astronaut Borman Does Russian Jig

VALTA, USSR (AP) — With a thousand children cheering, U.S. astronaut Frank Borman danced a Russian folk dance today with a pretty girl as he continued his goodwill tour of the Crimea.

At a seaside camp for Pioneers—a Communist youth group—Borman at first said he was too clumsy, but gave in and danced with the children at an outdoor theater began singing and clapping rhythmically.

The crew-cut, 41-year-old spaceman stepped and twisted in the hot sun as the red-kerchiefed Pioneers serenaded him with a pop song about space flight: "On the dusty road of the distant planets we will leave our traces . . ."

Borman's wife, Susan, and his two sons, as well as Soviet cosmonauts German Titov and Konstantin Feoktisov, also danced with the children.

At the end, the kids in the packed grandstands chanted: "Molodets" (well done).

"It was fun," Borman said. "It was like a Virginia reel."

Earlier today, on setting out from his cypress-shaded hotel here, Borman was applauded by a crowd of about 100 Soviet tourists who had stood on the street awaiting him. He thanked them and crossed the street to shake hands and pat children on the head.

On his way to a motorboat that took him to the youth camp, Borman drove down Franklin Roosevelt Street—a reminder of the 1945 Yalta summer conference here of World War II allies.

Using his evident popularity to pursue closer East-West ties, Borman stopped at every opportunity to greet Soviet vacationers with a smile or wave and signed autographs. He told fans, and later the children at the Artek Youth camp: "We're your friends."

Interviewed in the shade of a palm tree, Borman was asked his opinion of the space tracking station he saw Sunday at Yevpatoria, across the Crimean peninsula northwest of here. "Science is science, and physics is physics," he replied. "The only difference is language."

Asked to compare American astronaut training with secret training facilities for Soviet cosmonauts he saw outside Moscow Saturday, Borman replied in a similar vein.

"They are almost exactly the same. If the cosmonauts didn't speak Russian," he said, "it could be America."

Borman began his semi-official Soviet visit last Wednesday and flies home Thursday.

Two Injured As Model A Overturns In Collision

Two Oakland women were reported in fair condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital for minor cuts.

Johanson was booked at Contra Costa County Jail on suspicion of felony drunken driving after being treated at Brookside Hospital in Richmond for a nose injury, which the patrol said Baker gave him in a one-punch fight after the crash.

Elsie Baker, 48, and Theda Y. Reppas, 41, also had multiple scrapes and bruises.

The Highway Patrol said the accident occurred at 7:45 p.m. east of mid-span when the old convertible, driven by Irby J. Baker, 51, of Oakland, was hit by Ralph C. Johanson, 25, of San Francisco.

Baker and another passenger, Michael S. Reppas, 44, of Oakland, were treated at Marin General Hospital for minor cuts.

Johanson was booked at Contra Costa County Jail on suspicion of felony drunken driving after being treated at Brookside Hospital in Richmond for a nose injury, which the patrol said Baker gave him in a one-punch fight after the crash.

While doctors consider the common cold a minor ailment, it accounts for one quarter of the total time lost for illness each year. The average cold lasts from three to seven days and results in a minimum of 180 million work days lost nationally, according to a market research project.

One youth was taken into custody by police. He was a 17-year-old found hiding inside the store.

Computers Will Guide New Jet

A Lockheed spokesman said Sunday the system has been under study for two years and potential buyers of the L1011 have said they want it. The system probably will be offered as an option costing about $250,000, the company said.

Lockheed-California Co. engineers say onboard and ground computers will guide the big planes most of the time in the air.

INVADE ROYALTY'S PRIVACY

Palace Snoopers On The Rise Again

By JOHN COTTRELL
London Express

LONDON — "Psst! Want to buy a picture of the Queen of England in bed? Or maybe a snap of Princess Margaret's son, Viscount Linley, scrapping on the soccer field? No? Then how about an old school essay by Prince Charles?"

Suddenly the market is booming again for the professional palace snoopers and the "stool-pigeons" who work on the inside.

With the children of the Queen and Princess Margaret appearing more and more in public, there are plenty of opportunities for the legitimate photographers to take candid shots of the royal family.

But now a handful of opportunists, serving American and Continental magazines, are seeking more sensational coups — exclusive, intimate material like the bedroom snaps which were taken by Prince Philip and Princess Anne for the family album only.

At least three overseas magazines are known to have correspondents in London who are employed largely in prying and probing around the palaces, either seeking pictures or royal secrets from inside contacts.

The police on duty at the royal palace have a list of more than a dozen men and women who specialize in trading in such "hot" material.

The vast majority of members of the royal households can be trusted not to cooperate with the snoopers. But there are always exceptions to be found.

Gone are the days when royal service was a lifetime occupation passed on automatically from mother to daughter, father to son. Many household helps for the palaces now have to be engaged through ordinary domestic agencies, and some are employed on a part-time basis.

There is, of course, the hard core of dedicated and loyal servants. But others view their position strictly in terms of hard cash and they see plenty of drawbacks.

The union rate pay is no higher than they could get in private households, even though they may have to spend dreary months out of London — at Sandringham and Balmoral. And there are no tips or "perks" — unless, of course, they care to sell snippets of information to outsiders.

The one big advantage is having a royal reference which can open the door to the very highest paid jobs abroad, especially in America. Hence the steady turnover in staff.

Most royal servants rarely come in direct contact with the Queen and her family. But they can still find a ready market overseas for unreliable stories they may have to offer.

Some of the biggest royal "scoops," like the romance of Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend, have broken abroad before appearing in Britain. But for every accurate revelation overseas, there will be a dozen totally inaccurate ones. Sometimes, however, a bull's-eye must be scored.

The selling of royal stories became big business back in the 1940s when Marion Crawford started producing books and series about the royal family. She had joined the palace staff in 1933 as governess to the then 7-year-old Princess Elizabeth.

Crawfie, a Scotswoman and quite outstanding governess, was reported to have received $36,000 from an American magazine for one series. In 1950, the sum of $75,000 was mentioned in the House of Commons as the price paid by a London publisher for one book.

But Crawfie did not pedal sensational material. That came later. And in recent years, several members of the royal family have been the subject of wildly irresponsible stories published abroad.

What can the Queen and her family do to protect themselves? Sometimes they have recourse to legal action. This has happened twice in modern times.

In 1959, after writing one article, a one-time superintendent of Windsor Castle was restrained from publishing any further information about the royal family gained during his service. This court action, brought by the attorney-general on behalf of the Queen, held him to a secrecy pledge he had made while in service.

In 1960, the Queen Mother scored a similar triumph when she obtained a high court injunction to restrain an ex-footman from writing or telling anyone about anything he saw or heard while in her service.

Even as far back as 1849, personal royal material was being smuggled out of the palace. Then, the Prince Consort, Queen Victoria's husband, had to bring an action to stop the publication of drawings and etchings which he and the Queen had made of their private life.

Journalist Edward Frederick Mylius, who had written the story and distributed copies in England, was arrested on around the country.

King George V, for example, led an exemplary life. Yet for years his reputation was marred by the well-known story that he had secretly married in Malta in 1890 — three years before his marriage to Princess Mary of Teck.

His real wife was said to be the daughter of an English admiral, Sir Michael Gulme-Seymour. They were supposed to have had two or three children.

George, as Duke of York, treated it as a joke at first. When he was engaged to Princess Mary, he told her: "I say, Mary, we can't get married after all. I hear I have got a wife and three children."

But the story persisted, even though it implied that he had committed bigamy and that his children by Queen Mary were illegitimate.

He could do nothing about it until 1910 when the great lie was actually put into print. It appeared in the Liberator, an obscure, seditious newspaper published in Paris. And as it circulated in England, the King could take action at last.

Walter Lee Hale, 50, of 718 I Street, was found at his home at 11:40 a.m. Saturday by police and left a note that indicated he planned to shoot himself. Police said he had called a stepdaughter shortly before and said to be despondent over marital difficulties.

ing Day, 1910, and charged with criminal libel.

At the trial it was proved that the King had never been in Malta at the time of the alleged secret marriage. The admiral had two daughters. One, now dead, had never met the king; the other, married to a Navy Captain, had met the King only once — when she was 8 years old.

Mylius was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment, the maximum penalty.

Man Hospitalized
By Gunshot In Chest

A Petaluma man was reported in satisfactory condition at Petaluma General Hospital with a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the chest, according to police.

Walter Lee Hale, 50, of 718 I Street, was found at his home at 11:40 a.m. Saturday by police and left a note that indicated he planned to shoot himself. Police said he had called a stepdaughter shortly before and said to be despondent over marital difficulties.

Mari Ellen Grange of 74 Ridge Avenue reported $30 was taken from her home Thursday evening, with entry believed made through the basement.

Cash Is Stolen
While Family
Is Fast Asleep

Someone entered the Jeffery M. Greenwood apartment at 575 Canal Street, San Rafael, about midnight Friday and took $50 from a purse without disturbing the sleeping occupants, San Rafael police said today.

Police said Mrs. Greenwood and the couple's year-old child were asleep when entry was made, apparently through an unlocked sliding door.

Police also reported two other burglaries reported during the weekend.

Francis Edward Allison of 1404 Grand Avenue reported $325 worth of tools were taken from his garage while he was on vacation from June 27 until Thursday.

Mari Ellen Grange of 74 Ridge Avenue reported $30 was taken from her home Thursday evening, with entry believed made through the basement.

Carthaginian Remains
Discovered In Sicily

MOZIA, Sicily (AP) — An archaeologist who has found 400 tombs here said today it was "the greatest discovery of Carthaginian art ever made in Italy."

Sabatino Moscati said the tombs date from the 7th through the 4th Centuries, B.C.

Besides the stones, many of them with bas-relief human figures, Moscati said he and his team found urns containing the bones of children burned as human sacrifices.

U Thant In Hospital

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant will enter Le Roy Hospital in Manhattan this afternoon for treatment of an acute rectal condition, a U.N. spokesman said.

The illness prevented Thant from going to Paris for a state visit on Tuesday.

Our flights to New York just got a little quieter.

At 30,000 feet the loudest noise you hear might not be the jet engines.

Instead it could be your son or daughter dropping a cap gun on the floor.

Or standing on the seat to pull the wig off the lady up front.

Or crawling over you to look out the window.

And that can be a real nuisance.

Well, at American Airlines we've done something about this. With Astro-Comics.

Astro-Comics are real comic books like "Little Audrey" and "Casper the Friendly Ghost." So they really hold a child's attention.

In addition we're the only airline that has full color movies plus cartoons on Astro-Color, our special movie system. It's the only one with 14 screens, so it's

STORM'S AFTERMATH — A car in water and a cruiser almost out of water are mute testimony today of the raging flood waters of the Vermilion

26 Dead, Six Missing In Ohio, Lake Erie Storms

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-six persons were known dead and at least six missing as a search continued today for victims of weekend storms in northern Ohio and Lake Erie.

Floodwaters were reported receding in nearly all areas.

Bodies of five members of a Wooster family missing since Saturday were found last night, leaving four others missing in that city. Also missing were a milk truck driver in Ashland County and a Sandusky man swept from a bridge Saturday.

Coast Guard officials said nearly all of 160 holiday boaters still unaccounted for Sunday night were believed safe ashore.

nesses, factories, and public offices remained closed.

Several other towns throughout northern Ohio reported flooding, water and power shortages and communications difficulties.

Bike Rider Treated For Broken Spine

John J. Hogan, 26, of Los Angeles was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after an accident at 11 p.m. yesterday when the racing bicycle he was riding collided with a car driven by George B. Wigner, 17, of 76 Tamalpais Avenue, San Anselmo, on Center Boulevard between Saunders and San Anselmo avenues, police reported.

Hogan is being treated for a broken lumbar spine and a cut left foot.

In Norwalk waters reached depths of 15 feet Saturday after a reservoir broke. Still on duty were 150 National Guard troops, enforcing a curfew from 9 p.m. until 5 a.m. for the second night.

The city of 15,000 remained without power or water. In Wooster, where a flash flood hit Saturday, the city was without drinking water. Wooster busi-

Police Seek Help In Locating Man

Sausalito police are seeking help in locating Gil Turner, 36, formerly of Richardson Street, Sausalito, and more recently of the Gate 5 area.

Sgt. Jack Heringer reported that the pastor of a church in Bridgeport, Conn., called and asked for assistance in finding Turner because Turner's father, Alfred Strunk, is in critical condition at a Bridgeport hospital.

Missing Young Camper Is Safe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 9-year-old girl lost for two days among the giant trees of Sequoia National Park is home in excellent condition, and with advice on scaring bears.

Irene Hofke wandered from her family's campsite Thursday and was found two miles away Saturday night.

"I wasn't hungry at all," she told newsmen. "I was just hot from walking and got really thirsty." She said she drank from streams.

Afraid? "No. I knew my mother would call the ranger because she gets real worried."

The one troubling moment: "I saw this bear coming straight at me—a big, fat bear. I started yelling and shaking a tree, and he left."

L.A. Fire Threat Follows Rain

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A potentially critical fire situation now exists in Los Angeles County because of heavy winter rains, county fire chief Richard Houts said today.

"The heavy rains of winter not only brought a lush crop of flammable brush and grass to our hills and mountains, but washed out numerous fire control roads which will hinder fire fighting operation," Houts said.

Houts said brush fires in 1968 destroyed more than 79,000 acres of water shed in the county and the winter deluge washed away miles of canyon slopes to cause the present dangerous condition.

Nader Attacks Agency About Meat Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has suppressed its own critical report of meat processing plans and is failing to push for compliance with meat inspection laws, says consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin—spokesmen said yesterday it had not been received—Nader hit strongly at the department's consumer and marketing service and its chief, Dr. Robert K. Somers.

Nader said Somers has in his possession a report written five years ago saying some 150 meat-processing plants are currently marking meat with a federal stamp and shipping it across state lines even though none of the plants inspected passed federal standards.

"This means the law is being violated, that consumers are being misled by the federal stamp and that the department has not been doing its job," Nader said. "Yet Dr. Somers keeps the report secret."

Nader said Somers' division has failed to insure the states will comply with the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 by the December 1969 deadline. The act seeks inspection practices at least as tough as federal standards.

Somers and other inspectors personally inspected one plant

Driver, 81, Suffers Only Minor Injuries

An 81-year-old San Francisco driver suffered a bruise above his right eyebrow Saturday when his car struck a telephone pole while traveling north along San Geronimo-Nicasio Road, two miles north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

The driver, George Huber of 2378 32nd Avenue, told officers he would see his own doctor. Officers said his car swerved onto the shoulder and he struck the pole.

Volunteers Sought For Drug Program

Henry Mallman, newly appointed chairman of the Tiburon Peninsula Drug Abuse Committee has issued an urgent call for professional and non-professional individuals to serve on community groups now being organized.

Purpose of these groups is to acquaint the community with the problems of drug use and abuse, he said.

Court Sentencing Delayed For Former Fairfax Nurse

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Vera Mae Walsh, former Fairfax practical nurse scheduled for sentencing on two forgery convictions, received a delay today in Sonoma County Superior Court.

The delay came after her attorney, Albert Rizzo, withdrew from the case. Appointed to replace him was public defender Marteen Miller. Continuing the matter until Friday at 8:45 a.m., Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. called for a probation report and said that a new trial would be scheduled in the manslaughter charge against her.

Last week a jury found Mrs. Walsh guilty of forgery, but could not reach a verdict in the

Frank Russo Arrested In Plaza Melee

Frank John Russo, unofficial mayor of Vina Del Mar Plaza in Sausalito, learned Saturday his writ does not run to police officers.

Russo, 45, of 1417½ Bridge-way, was jailed on suspicion of disturbing the peace and battery on two policemen. He was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $1,250 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said Russo objected loudly when they arrested a man at 3:45 p.m. for drinking in the plaza. A crowd of several hundred gathered, police said, as Russo told off police in four and 14-letter terms.

When Russo refused to lower his voice, Patrolman Gary Gee arrested him. Russo then reportedly lunged at Gee, Patrolman Stephen Willis grabbed Russo and the melee was on.

A hostile crowd began to throw things at the officers and tried to deflate the patrol car's tires, so Gee held off the crowd while Willis struggled with Russo, finally squirting him with chemical spray to end the battle.

Willis, whose glasses were broken in the fray, received first aid from the fire department for cuts on the face and left arm.

Mill Valley Home Leveled; $30,000 Fire

A roaring fire, hot enough to ignite surrounding trees, totally destroyed a six-room Mill Valley home yesterday.

Fifteen firemen spent more than an hour extinguishing the blaze at 30 Lower Wildomar, home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Perrin, which would "regret every time we thought we had it out," according to Mill Valley Fire Capt. Henry Pierroz.

"It probably was the toughest fire we ever had to fight," Pierroz said. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Pierroz said the fire probably started in the basement from an unknown cause and had been smoldering for several hours before the house erupted into flames.

By the time firemen arrived, the entire frame house was ablaze as were several surrounding trees.

Perrin and his wife were in the process of moving to San Francisco and had just repainted the interior, firemen said. The fresh paint contributed to the intensity of the blaze, Pierroz said.

The Perrins were in San Francisco when the fire broke out.

Other homes in the neighborhood were not threatened, firemen said.

One volunteer fireman, Donald Lenherr of 101 Walnut Avenue, was treated for a cut right hand at Marin General Hospital following the fire.

Deodorant Fumes Kills Inmate Youth

POMONA (AP) — Sniffing fumes from a deodorant spray caused the death of a 15-year-old inmate of the Camp Page Juvenile Detention Center, authorities say.

The youth, dead on arrival at the Pomona Valley Hospital, soaked a towel and undershirt in the spray then inhaled it, police said yesterday. Authorities said the unidentified teenager was sent to the detention center after conviction on a charge of sending narcotics through the mail.

Strict Security For 13 Panthers

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirteen Black Panthers awaiting trial on conspiracy charges sleep with lights on in their cells, can receive letters only from relatives and are checked every half-hour, the city's corrections commissioner said.

George F. McGrath, head of the Department of Corrections, said yesterday, "We're not doing this because they are right or they are wrong, but because they might bring down the walls."

McGrath said the 13 were security risks, "This is the way we have to view these people. They were committed to us as recognized militants, as part of a formal party which urges people to be anti-establishment."

Carmel Ordinance Will Be Discussed

The controversial Carmel ordinance regarding use of public areas will be discussed by the Mill Valley city council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council is also scheduled to discuss salaries for part-time employees and appointments to the library board and youth commission.

Car Stripping Told

Ruth Marie Ruoff of 1741 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, reported Thursday that two wheels and two tires, valued at a total of $100, had been taken from her car during the night, police said today.

The council is also scheduled to discuss salaries for part-time employees and appointments to the library board and youth commission.

Policeman Is Serious From Pot Shootout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A rookie police officer wounded in a shootout with a marijuana suspect is in serious condition at a San Francisco hospital. The suspect was shot to death by other police.

Police say officer Darrell Nash, 29, was shot by Edward A. Baker Jr., 28, after a raid on Baker's Haight-Ashbury apartment late Saturday night.

Nash, who suffered "extensive hemorrhaging" from a wound in the lungs, also was hit in the leg.

Police said Nash and three other plainclothes officers went to the Baker apartment to purchase marijuana. They said Nash was unable to enter the apartment to accompany his fellow three fellow officers because of a door lock that jammed.

After the three plainclothesmen completed the purchase, they unjammed the entrance door to admit Nash and other uniformed police called in as a backup.

They said Baker dived for a couch and emerged with a .22-caliber pistol which he fired twice, both bullets striking Nash.

Police fired three shots, killing Baker.

Police said they found a loaded shotgun on a window sill and a suitcase stuffed with marijuana.

Baker's wife, Glenna, 20, was booked on charges of possession and sale of marijuana. Their son, Larkin, 6 months, was taken to the Youth Guidance Center.

Marine Is Booked Into Jail; Faces Trial On Drugs

Terry N. Tsegelatos, 24, a U.S. Marine charged with selling LSD and mescaline in Marin on May 20, 1968, was booked into Marin County Jail last night to await setting of a trial.

Tsegelatos, of San Francisco, was brought from San Diego County by Camp Pendleton Marine authorities. He had been taken away from Marin in February by the Marines after bail-bailing out while awaiting trial.

At the time, Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court issued a bench warrant with bail set at $2,500 for Tsegelatos when he failed to appear at a trial setting hearing.

Tsegelatos' former attorney, Michael B. Duffey, was given permission to withdraw from the case after his client was taken to Southern California by the Marines.

Ex-Convict Accused In Ann Arbor Murder

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A 28-year-old repairman has been accused of the shooting death of a University of Michigan coed—the seventh young woman slain in the area in less than two years.

Sources close to the investigation said the man was released from the Southern Michigan Prison six months ago after serving a sentence for rape.

Police Chief Walter Krasny said the shooting victim, Margaret Phillips, 25, had been counseling the man, Ernest R. Bishop Jr., on how to improve his life. She was doing it "on her own," Krasny commented.

He said Miss Phillips also had "more than a casual interest" in the six previous slayings and had interviewed several persons on the subject. Two of the killings occurred while Bishop was in prison.

Miss Phillips was shot in her apartment early Saturday. She died yesterday without regaining consciousness.

Four heavily armed police officers arrested Bishop as he left his apartment building on the city's north side last night.

The man, who is small and thin, had been working as a refrigeration repairman police said.

Washtenaw County Prosecutor William Delhey said Bishop, booked by police on an informal charge of premeditated murder, would be charged formally in District Court today.

Husband Cleared In Wife's Slaying

VALLEJO (UPI) — A Vallejo restaurant worker has been cleared by homicide investigators in the fatal shooting of his wife and the wounding of her companion in Blue Rock Springs Park.

Authorities said Dean Ferrin was working Saturday night when an assailant pulled open the door of a parked car in the park and fired a fusillade of shots into its two occupants.

Ferrin's wife, Darlene, 22, was killed and Michael Mageau, 19, was wounded. Each was shot three times.

Safety Building Sites On Agenda

The San Anselmo City Council will consider sites for a public safety building at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Also to be considered are appointments to the library board, park and recreation commission and the planning commission. A parking problem at Humboldt and Foothill avenues will be reviewed as well as the proposed removal of traffic signal posts at San Anselmo and Tunstead avenues.

Educators Elect New President

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Mrs. Helen Bain, 45, Nashville, Tenn., has been named president-elect of the National Education Association.

Mrs. Bain an English teacher for 22 years, was elected Saturday at the closing session of the NEA's 107th annual convention. She will succeed George D. Fischer in July, 1970.

Delegates voted to continue NEA support of federal aid to non-public schools.

They adopted a minority report at the final session which backed existing federal legislation to provide "for goods and services to non public schools and low income families."

Joan's Husband Ready For Prison

PALO ALTO (AP) — Pacifist David Harris, husband of folk-singer Joan Baez, says he will work for nonviolent revolution behind prison walls.

Harris, 23, says he expects federal marshals to pick him up sometime this week, to start serving his three-year sentence by sharing his water ration.

He lost an appeal in U.S. Court of Appeals June 12, and says he has decided against appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court.

"It's a political case," he said in an interview Saturday. "It's just reality. I'm going to be arrested and the alternatives, hiding or splitting (fleeing the country), are worse. You can't build a revolution by hiding."

Ex-Vietnam Boss Will Meet Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first combat unit to be pulled out of Vietnam by the Nixon administration will be welcomed on its return to the United States tomorrow by Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

A Defense Department spokesman, Jerry Friedheim, said the administration has not reached any conclusion about the possible significance of the lull but said the war often has a cyclical nature with high peaks of enemy activity often followed by periods when the enemy rests, regroups and resupplies for more fighting.

Pentagon officials noted that while there has been no significant increase in ground attacks by the enemy in recent days, attacks by mortar and rocket fire went up over the weekend.

Crash Of Commuter Airplane Claims 14

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ben Alexander, who played a chubby policeman on the first "Dragnet" television series and later appeared in "Felony Squad," another TV series, is dead at the age of 58.

Authorities said he had been dead more than a week when his wife found his body at home Saturday on her return from a camping trip.

Alexander died of a coronary occlusion, the coroner's office said.

Nicholas Ben Alexander was born in Goldfield, Nev., in 1913, at the age of 3 he began appearing in the films of D.W. Griffith.

A big break came in 1930 when he landed a role in "All Quiet on the Western Front." Universal Studios wanted to sign him to a contract, he recalled.

"But Lewis Milestone, the director of the picture, advised me to hold out until it was released. Then I'd get offers from all the studios," Alexander said.

"So what happened? The picture was released and nobody could tell us apart in those uniforms, except Lew Ayres. I didn't work for two years."

In 1936 he became a radio announcer and quizmaster. Between performing jobs Alexander, a graduate of Sanford University, did graduate work in business administration and became a licensed embalmer.

He owned a brewery, a chain of car dealerships, motels, and filling stations and was president of Alexander and Murphy Mortuaries.

Private funeral services will be held. His widow, Lesley, two sons and a daughter survive.

There were reports in Washington today that President Nixon may order new troop withdrawals earlier than expected next month, if enemy forces should continue the recent lull, or slump, in hostile activities.

The Pentagon said it was aware of no change in the administration's schedule for making another decision on possible troop withdrawals in August.

A Defense Department spokesman, Jerry Friedheim, said the administration has not reached any conclusion about the possible significance of the lull but said the war often has a cyclical nature with high peaks of enemy activity often followed by periods when the enemy rests, regroups and resupplies for more fighting.

Pentagon officials noted that while there has been no significant increase in ground attacks by the enemy in recent days, attacks by mortar and rocket fire went up over the weekend.

Flood Control Hearing Set Tomorrow

A continued hearing into the controversial extension of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project through the Town of Ross will open at 1:49 p.m. tomorrow before the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

At issue is whether the supervisors, sitting as the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District board, will approve plans by the Army Corps of Engineers for a concrete flood channel in the creek right-of-way or vote study of alternate plans.

A group of residents named the Ross Citizens Committee has urged study of a proposal to divert flood waters into an underground channel and leave the creek in its natural state. The Army has said this would be too costly; even though some right-of-way for the underground tunnel would be donated.

The hearing was continued from June 24 because two members of the board of supervisors were absent.

In other business tomorrow, the supervisors are scheduled to ratify new contracts with the social and probation workers; consider an interim report by the Marin County Grand Jury on structural fire protection for county buildings and hear a request from the county aviation commission for engineering students of a Central Marin heliport.

The board's all-day meeting will begin at 9 a.m. in the administration building of the Marin Civic Center.

$1,110 In Gems Taken From Home

Jewelry valued at more than $1,100 was taken from the home of Hertha Sommers, 151 Toyon Drive, just outside Fairfax, Thursday, sheriff's deputies have reported.

The major item taken was a woman's ring containing 13 diamonds and valued at $1,000, deputies reported.

Ron L. Hunter of 105 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, reported to deputies Friday that someone stole a motor valued at $396 from his boat parked in his rear yard.

Dr. Knox H. Finley of San Francisco reported Friday that someone broke into his Stinson Beach home at Calle Del Mar and took a television set, radio, clock and rug with a total value estimated at $600. Deputies said the burglary occurred sometime between June 29 and Friday.

Charles E. Paganini of 600 Point San Pedro Road, Loch Lomond, reported Saturday that a portable stereo, valued at $180, and from 40 to 45 tapes were taken from his home sometime between 9:30 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Suspect Nabbed For Dognapping

A Sacramento man was arrested Saturday on suspicion of dognapping after a Woodacre couple contended he had driven off with their 4-month-old shepherd Labrador.

George C. Oberg, 27, of Sacramento was arrested on a complaint by Mrs. R. Daniel Pfennig of 149 Central Avenue, who said the dog was taken from in front of a Woodacre market while she was shopping.

Oberg told sheriff's deputies the dog followed him a while, and then he gave it a ride to the home of a friend nearby. He said he had no intention of keeping the dog, which the Pfennigs valued from $200 to $250.

Oberg was released on his own recognizance and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

New Latin Policy Is Expected From Rocky

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller completed a 38,731-mile Latin American tour yesterday and is expected to give the President his recommendations on a new policy next month. Informants said President Richard M. Nixon may unveil a new policy during a Latin American economic conference in October.

The Rockefeller report will cover impressions and opinions gathered by the New York governor and 23 experts accompanying him to 20 nations, ranging from Brazil, larger than the continental United States, to the microstate of Barbados, smaller than the City of Los Angeles.

Besides his policy recommendations, Rockefeller also is expected to urge setting up special government machinery to implement the new Latin-American policy and make it viable. Some aspects may require congressional approval.

During his trip, Rockefeller emphasized a belief that the Alliance for Progress failed to achieve many of its goals because the machinery necessary to push it through was never created and laws and regulations blocking alliance goals were never eliminated. Rockefeller's recommendations are expected to cover, among other things:

1. Protectionist U.S. trade policies that Latin Americans claim are curbing their export potential.

2. Elimination of conditions to U.S. aid, such as the requirement that aid funds be spent in the United States. The governor said these conditions amounted to a subsidy for U.S. exports. 3. The drain on Latin-American foreign exchange reserves through unfavorable trade balances and loan repayments. Brazil alone will pay $500 million this year in principal and interest on foreign debts. This is almost as much as the U.S. has apportioned in aid funds for Latin America this year.

Jaap Suyderhoud of 222 Sequoia Avenue, San Anselmo, told police Friday that he parked a 1967 MG roadster across from his driveway at 7:30 p.m. and it was gone when he went to get it at 8:30 p.m. The car, he told officers, is owned by E. F. Sweeney Cars Inc. of San Rafael, for whom he works.

Any $7,400 car is tight-new. The sinewy Mercedes-Benz 280SE is built to be rattle-free even after 50,000 miles.

Lift the hood, and you'll see why.

The 280SE is rated the safest, most roadworthy car in the "luxury" field. A sound investment, too.

One of the sweet pleasures of driving any brand-new car is that firm, buttoned-up feeling it has when it thumps across the inevitable potholes and corrugated railroad tracks.

Especially if the car you traded-in had taken to moaning and groaning over such indignities.

Mercedes-Benz engineers like the nice, tight, "new-car feel" so much they think it ought to last longer than new-car smell, new-car payments, and even a new-car warranty. In fact, they see no reason why you should not go right on enjoying it year after year after year.

And, since Mercedes-Benz engineers stubbornly refuse to waste time on annual face-lifts or superfluous gimmickry, they have ample opportunity to make such dreams come true.

Born to last

Result: every Mercedes-Benz 280SE begins life in a shower of sparks. Its chassis and body are not bolted into being, like those of a conventional sedan, but solidified by thousands of welds into a single, rigid unit.

Flip up the hood or peer into the wheel wells behind the tires, and examine the frame. You can actually see the telltale pockmarks of the welds.

And you'll "feel" the difference they make from the first tar strip you hit. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if your 280SE will ever rattle.

When welding stops, hands in soft gloves caress the exterior of the body to detect bumps and burrs. They are smoothed away. Vital seams are soldered and buffed to oblivion.

Then the raw body is dunked whole, like a taffy apple, into a gigantic vat of primer. It emerges with 24 pounds of rust protection.

Next, it is baked, spray-painted, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Even the insides of the hubcaps are coated. Total primer and paint anti-corrosion protection: over 44 pounds.

As a final flourish in its armament against road salt, rust and rot, the 280SE gets a 24-pound factory slathering of undercoating.

Unrelenting power

The overhead-cam, fuel-injection engine equals the coachwork for longevity.

Bearings are delicately machined to within 4/10,000ths of an inch, and pistons and connecting rods are painstakingly matched and balanced. Yet this power plant is about as fragile as a bull. It's built to cruise above 100 mph on Germany's wide-open autobahns for hours on end (and often does).

Heroic handling

The legendary stamina of a Mercedes-Benz is a virtue you can appreciate only with the passing of time. But you needn't wait a moment to savor this car's true genius: its quick reflexes and heroic handling ability.

The 280SE bristles with sophisticated, ultra-performance features that simply do not exist on domestic sedans in the so-called "fine car" field.

Scraping the solid "beam" rear-axle system of domestic sedans, it uses an articulated axle, so that each rear wheel can move up and down independently of the other, just as the front wheels do.

This endows the car with the agility of a scrambling quarterback. You can blast it over rutted gravel lanes; it behaves with almost eerie calm. You can thread it through the corkscrew turns of a mountain road—and enjoy yourself.

There's no sloppy play in the steering, either. No mushiness. When you hold the wheel, you are blessed with the "feel" of the road. When you turn the wheel, the car responds instantly. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Taut, sensitive steering is retained even with Mercedes-Benz power steering—characterized by Car and Driver as "unquestionably the most precise unit of its kind ever developed."

Awesome brakes

Unless you have driven a 180-mph Grand Prix racing car or a Mercedes-Benz, chances are you have never experienced the awesome stopping power of really good brakes.

Disc brakes

Mercedes-Benz engineers insist on them. Nor do they stint by putting disc brakes only at the front wheels, and settling for conventional drum brakes on the rear. They attach a massive, caliper-type disc brake to every wheel of every Mercedes-Benz.

Someday, doubtless, 4-wheel disc brakes will be offered on a domestic "luxury" car.

The pinnacle of safety

The responsiveness which makes the 280SE such a pleasure to drive is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally, it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But a Mercedes-Benz has additional safety features.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

Car and Driver's sober conclusion: Of all the world's cars, the Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

Showroom experiments

The 280SE is as habitable as it is durable, roadworthy, and safe.

Slip behind the wheel, and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you. It should: it was contoured with help from orthopedic physicians. The springs inside are actually tuned to the car's suspension movements—to cancel thousands of tiny, tiring tremors every mile.

Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Feel the underside of the dash. No spaghetti tangle of wires—it's fully finished off. Finger the wood trim. Real walnut, not plastic.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners.

Unconventional? Definitely so. Mercedes-Benz does not build conventional cars—and never will.

280SE vs. 280S vs. 280SEL

The 280SE sells for about $7,400 complete with automatic shift, power steering, vinyl upholstery, white walls, and AM/FM radio.

If you can live without the 15% power-boost from that "E"—for Einspritzmotor, or fuel-injection engine—you can make a tidy savings by ordering the standard 280S.

You can also order a 280SEL—the 280SE with a wheelbase four inches longer. (Four inches invested in leg-room for the rear compartment, not squandered in useless overhang.)

Other models to ponder:

250 Sedan—an unflappable road car with superb handling and braking, $5,299.

300SEL 6.3 Sedan—"Merely the greatest sedan in the world"—Road & Track, $14,450.

MUSIC REVIEW

New Ensemble Has An Excellent Start

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mill Valley, which is becoming known as the place to go for fine chamber music, welcomed a new ensemble yesterday afternoon in a new locale — the public library.

This was the first concert sponsored by the Mill Valley Library Association as part of its policy of making the beautiful new library a center of community life.

The concert was a resounding success, both musically and in attendance, for not only music connoisseurs came but also many an average music-loving family, including young children.

With something like 200 people attending, every chair in the place was filled, and some curled up comfortably on the carpeted floor while others stood.

Performing were six eminent- ly qualified professional musicians, most of whom I had heard before but never as a

Three Artists

Show In Novato

Three members of North Bay Artists Inc. are currently showing works in the Novato area.

Ellen McElroy and Frances Ewing have a show at Novato General Hospital and Herta Rothschild has a one-man show at Crocker Citizens Bank.

The North Bay Artists scholarship was awarded this year to Susan Pemberton of Novato.

Highway Applications Due

Final date for applications to take the test for highway patrolman positions is July 25, according to Dan W. Lyons, commander of the California Highway Patrol, Marin-Golden Gate Bridge area. The test will be given Aug. 16.

Forms for application are available at any highway patrol, State Employment Service, Department of Motor Vehicles or State Personnel Board office.

Applicants must be 20 to 31 years old, five feet nine inches to six feet six inches in height, have a high school diploma or equivalent and be in good health.

Water Transit Plans On Agenda

A water transportation study by Arthur D. Little Inc. of San Francisco will be discussed by the board of directors of the Marin County Transit District at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the planning commission chambers at Civic Center.

This is part of overall studies of all types of transportation between Marin and San Francisco. A report issued last month placed the loss of operating a commuter bus service from Marin to San Francisco at $1 million a year.

The board will also discuss a letter from auditor-controller Michael Mitchell relative to investment of district funds and receive the monthly report of the general manager.

Publication Of Budgets On Tap

Publication budgets for fiscal 1969-70 will come before the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration office.

Tentative budgets submitted were $4,879,092 for the high school district and $4,590,135 for the elementary district.

The board will go over the working drawings and specifications for the rehabilitation of the San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Other items to come before the board include receiving the cafeteria report, changing of dates for school board meetings, receiving a report on the community service tax usage, housing for the elementary students, and holding closed meeting to instruct the board's salary negotiating team.

"Two Gentlemen from Verona," one of three plays to be presented during the ninth annual Marin Shakespeare Festival starting July 17, will be directed by Dan Caldwell.

Caldwell directed "Comedy of Errors" last year for the festival. He has also acted in such roles as Antonio in "Merchant of Venice" and Jacques in "As You Like It." He is chairman of the drama department at Tamalpais High School.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," and "Richard II" are the other two plays which will be presented at performances July 17 through mid-September at Forest Meadows Theatre in San Rafael.

San Domenico Set Art Demonstration

An art exhibit and dance and drama demonstration will be held at San Domenico School for Girls from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. on July 13 to close the school's first summer session on creativity for children between 4 and 8.

The second session of the creativity classes will be held from 9:30 a.m. to noon weekdays, July 15 to Aug. 1.

80,000 At Newport's Jazz Festival

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The 16th Newport Jazz Festival drew an all-time record of 80,000 paid admissions, but the future of the annual attraction is in doubt again.

City Councilman David Fenton, previously a strong advocate of both jazz and folk festivals at Newport, said he aims to see to it that this is the last presentation of live rock music at the resort city.

The foul-day festival, which ended yesterday, was marred by scattered disruptions and vandalism.

George Wein, producer of both the jazz and folk festivals, scheduled a dozen rock groups along with the 20 jazz combos to bolster attendance this year.

"It was too much for Newport to handle," Fenton said. "Festival Field is built to accommodate 25,000. We had between 40,000 and 60,000, which was too much for a town of 37,500."

The disruptions consisted of rock-and-bottle-throwing, scuffles between police guards and would-be gate crashers, and several fires set on the festival grounds.

Fenton blamed the rock music for attracting the unusually young crowd to the festival.

"The majority of the kids were well behaved," Fenton said. "But a small percentage of troublemakers out of 50,000 is a lot and impossible for a police force of 200 to handle it."

Bret Harte Road, Irwin Lines On Tap

The San Rafael Planning Commission will set plan lines for the alignment for a roadway between Irwin Street and Bret Harte Road at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Also to be reviewed are two subdivision plans, eight use permits and seven plans for architectural approval. The commission will also consider a variance requested by Kathryn Cardoza to operate a family care facility for ten children at her home at 260 Clorinda Avenue.

$288,000 Price Tag For Naval Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — The company filming a controversial movie reconstructing the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor has paid the U.S. government, or been billed, more than $288,000 for rental of naval vessels and other services, the Pentagon says.

Nearly half of this amount — $134,376 for hauling mock Japanese war planes to Hawaii from California aboard the aircraft carrier Yorktown — was billed to 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. three days after a congressman introduced a bill to ban this kind of help for private film makers.

A Defense Department spokesman said the billing "was in the mill for months" and had nothing to do with the measure introduced by Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., to outlaw use of government equipment and people in shooting commercial films.

Offering the bill June 9, Murphy attacked Navy cooperation with 20th Century-Fox in making the picture "Tora, Tora, Tora." The title derives from the code signal radioed back by Japanese pilots to report that the Pearl Harbor bombing was total surprise.

The Associated Press disclosed last December the Navy was allowing the Yorktown to play the role of a Japanese carrier and was permitting off-duty U.S. Navy pilots to fly planes simulating Japanese bombers in the film.

Since then, criticism has grown in Congress and has broadened to cover the whole question of cooperation by the Pentagon and the armed services with commercial film-making for theaters and TV.

The General Accounting Office has been investigating the "Tora, Tora, Tora" case for about three weeks, sources said. GAO has already looked into Army actions in connection with the filming of "The Green Berets," a story about the Vietnam war.

Asked how much 20th Century-Fox has paid for equipment and services, the Pentagon reported receiving $154,524 for rental of naval vessels and gear, ship fuel, "military labor and material." Maintenance, safety observers, parking fees and other items.

On of the items involved payment of $22,700 "for removal of ships' radar antennas, removal and replacement of gun housings" at Pearl Harbor.

This indicated that the appearance of some U.S. naval vessels was altered, at least temporarily, for the picture-taking, which was conducted between December and April.

In addition to the $288,000 paid or billed for costs incurred in use of military equipment and services, the Defense Department said that 20th Century-Fox had paid out $489,488 to off-duty pilots and other military personnel who worked as extras, security guards, helpers, boat crews, etc.

Included in this were $5,576 in contributions to welfare and recreation funds of various ships that participated in the filming.

Curious Customer Surprises Managers

By JOHN CUNNIF

NEW YORK (AP) — A really curious customer had lunch at a well known restaurant the other day. So curious was she, in fact, that when the chef wasn't looking she ran her finger down the kitchen tiles looking for dirt. Then she peered into his refrigerator and, behind his back, peaked into his garbage pail.

Her unusual behavior began as soon as she entered the dining room. She was very impressed at the height of the ceiling, made a note about the wallpaper, and observed the appropriateness of the art that hung on the walls.

SHE SCRIBBLED little notes on the attentiveness of the waiters. And although she ate her food with pleasure, she ate critically also. She examined her London broil closely to make sure it was medium rare, as ordered.

After reflecting on the quality of the wine and the dessert and the final cup of coffee, and as the check was being presented, she surprised her very solicitous waiter. "I would like to speak with the manager," she said.

THE MANAGER hurried to the table, apprehension creased in his features, and the curious lady identified herself to him as an inspector. Her card showed she worked for Mobile Travel Guides, which rates 25,000 motels, hotels and restaurants.

It was then that she was invited to see the wine cellar and the chef's refrigerator and the quality of the meats and vegetables to be found in the kitchen.

She made a note about the cleanliness of the stove hood, and observed that there was no standing water or packed dirt on the floor. She explained later that there was no old garbage in the pail, indicating it was emptied regularly.

THE RESTAURANT received four stars, meaning it was "outstanding; worth a special effort to reach." It fell short of five stars—"one of the best in the country"—but only 11 are so ranked.

It could have received three stars, meaning excellent; or two stars, indicating very good, or one star, meaning good—better than average. It could also have received no star at all, and then it wouldn't be included in the guide.

'Sweethearts' Reminisce

"We were childhood sweethearts and we are still sweethearts," Mrs. Emanuel Azevedo said, speaking of her and her husband's 50 years of marriage.

Tiburon Woman Is Modern-Day Pioneer

By BETTY FROST

A family emergency brought Mrs. Howard Blethen Jr. of Tiburon into the management field. The Colonial Hotel in San Francisco had been in the family since it was purchased by Janet Blethen's father-in-law, the late Howard Blethen in 1913. In 1954 her husband, who had been operating the hotel, became ill.

"Someone had to take over," Janet said. Thus began her career in management — a field that is so unusual for a woman that no women members are accepted in the Northern California Management Association.

MORE TYPICALLY, a field inspector travels six to eight weeks, makes about 10 inspections a day when facilities are close together and much fewer at other times, and earns about $125 a week after expenses.

Because of the work's important nature and the opportunity it affords to combine a vacation of sorts, the job lends itself to retired couples and teachers.

One drawback is that the inspector has to pay for everything—out of his own pocket—and four-and five-star places can cost dearly. So also can gasoline and tips and the various incidental costs of travel.

WORKING on a contract basis, the inspectors can more than pay for a vacation. Attesting to their satisfaction is the low turnover rate, although Mobile did hire 23 new inspectors for duty this summer.

The qualifications are surprisingly simple. Curiosity, of course. But, according to Marion Stevens, who is in charge of the inspectors, the other attributes sought are rather ordinary: intelligence, ease with people, plenty of travel experience.

THE INSPECTORS do not issue the stars on their own, but are only one of several sources used. Mail from users of the guides is filed and the comments later matched with the rating. And professional travelers often contribute thoughts.

Erskine Caldwell, the novelist and lecturer, has been sending in comments for years. So has a Milwaukee lawyer who travels through the Midwest.

The restaurants, motels and hotels learn of their rating when the books are issued early in the year.

"ONCE A PATTERN has been set up, bookkeeping is not so difficult. You just have to be careful to be accurate," says Mrs. Howard Blethen Jr., former manager of the Tiburon Peninsula Club. Details include preparing tax forms for the club's employees in her office in the clubhouse.

student at the University of Santa Clara, lived at the Colonial Hotel with their parents. During their years as residents of the hotel, the children often had guests of their own.

So many, in fact, that "what do you think we're running — a hotel?" became a family byword.

Janet was educated in San Francisco, attended St. Rose Academy and was graduated from the Convent of the Sacred Heart and from San Francisco College for Women.

After graduation she did social service work. She did state relief work, was a foster homes case worker and did welfare work for Catholic charities in San Francisco.

This experience in youth work was good background for the work which she has been doing as manager of the Tiburon Peninsula Club for the past five years. Since she assumed the manager's duties at the club in 1964, an additional swimming pool, four more tennis courts and extensive remodeling of the clubhouse and landscaping have been undertaken. The club membership has been increased from 400 to 500 families on the Tiburon Peninsula with a waiting list of 45.

"Weekends and holidays are usually the busiest times at the club, and recreation programs, offered throughout the year, are particularly active during the summer months," Mrs. Blethen observed.

HONORED AT a reception by club officers and members on June 28, Mrs. Blethen is leaving for a new assignment in the management field at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco. She intends to maintain her residence in Tiburon, however.

At the convent, which includes a boys school, a girls school, a nursery school and a high school, she will be in charge of buildings and the management of housekeeping arrangements.

Central building of the convent is the magnificent old Flood mansion on Broadway Street in San Francisco. The unusual building is, Janet says, "completely self-contained, it is the air raid shelter for the neighborhood; it has its own water tanks. Besides the handsome marble hall, and several large reception rooms off the main lobby, which are evident to the observer, the structure features steel beam construction."

Other buildings on the block have been added to the school plant. Unusual, too, is the apartment complex, where the teaching sisters live in individual apartments, in a new trend away from institutionalized living arrangements for the nuns.

THE TIBURON woman will be pioneering in her new re-

Meanwhile, for the first time in five years, she will have a summer vacation and is looking forward to attending the Shakespeare Festival in Ashland, Ore. A former resident of Ross, she is interested in drama and has been a member of the Ross Valley Players.

She has recently joined the Audubon Society and looks forward to going on some of its

Best Friend Isn't Best Friend And 'Deflated' Wonders Why

DEAR HELEN: My best friend is not a best friend any more since I lost 25 pounds and she didn't. I started trying to improve my looks, and now whenever we're in a mixed crowd at a party or such, she never fails with such remarks as, "I just love your wig!" or "Doesn't May look great in false eyelashes?" or "You're so lucky you can still wear those young styles."

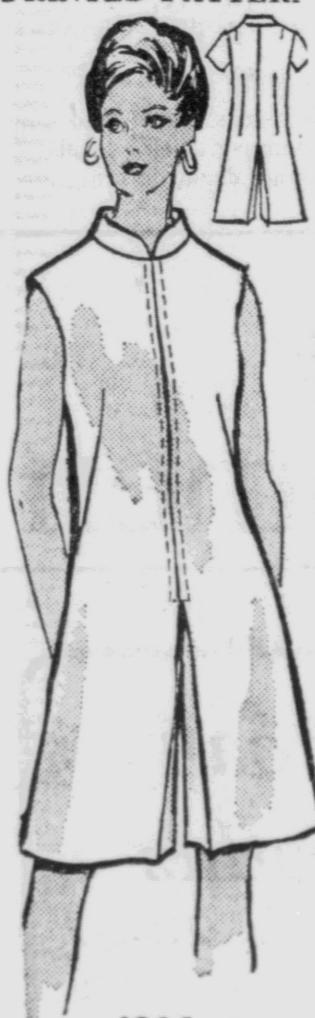

Really, my hair piece is not conspicuous and if I want heavier eyelashes for evening it's my business. My clothes are conservative enough for my age (40) and my husband approves of them thoroughly.

Her latest is to say she won't lose weight because look how wrinkled it makes you look. And there goes my evening!

Am I over-sensitive or is there a hiss in her purr? Outside of getting hefty and unattractive again, how can I combat this? — DEFANTED MAY

DEAR MAY: In your friend's place, wouldn't you feel jealous? So don't be too rough when you trim those velvet claws. Best way to stop her is with a slow, thoughtful smile and a look that travails from double chin to lumpy hips, then quickly away.

Only family members attended the marriage of Mrs. Vivian Dennistoun Knapp and Edward B. Towne Jr. both of Belvedere, June 28 in the chambers of Judge Peter Allen Smith in San Rafael. Judge Allen officiated at the brief ceremony.

A family party at the St. Francis Yacht Club after the wedding was attended by the children of the newlyweds. The Knapp children are Elyse, 10, Evan, 8, and Alexander, 4. Mr. Towne's children are Ted, 17, Andrew, 16, Molly, 12, and Billy, 9.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dennis of Corona Del Mar. She is a graduate of Bishop's School in La Jolla, and Occidental College.

Roger Towne of Acapulco, Mexico, is the bridegroom's only brother. A graduate of the University of California, Edward Towne is a self-employed geologist with offices in San Francisco. He did his preparatory work at Midland School in Los Olivos, near Santa Barbara. He is a member of St. Francis Yacht Club and the Pacific Union Club.

No wedding trip is planned until the fall, when the couple will go to Mexico. They will live in Belvedere.

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE HENSON

Bruce Hensons Wed In Mill Valley Rite

Jo Ann Marie Netto of Mill Valley and Bruce Edward Henson of Tiburon exchanged nuptial vows on June 29 in a ceremony at the Methodist Church in Mill Valley.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur Vincent Netto of Mill Valley and the late Mr. Netto, had as her maid of honor Clementine Hyndman of San Rafael. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Wallace of San Francisco, the bridegroom's sister; Mrs. Tony Chantri of Martinez, Melinda Shotwell of Novato and Janice Condran of Santa Clara.

Steve Zimmerman of San Francisco was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Henson of Tiburon. Ushers were William Wallace of San Francisco, Tony Chantri of Martinez and Patrick Condran Jr. of Santa Clara.

Following the wedding reception was held at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley. After a week on a houseboat at Shasta Lake the couple will live in San Rafael.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School and the College of Marin, the bride is in her senior year at San Francisco State College. She is the sister of Mrs. Patrick Condran Jr. of Santa Clara and the granddaughter of John Bayt of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Alice Bayt of Napa.

The bridegroom was graduated from Redwood High School and attended the College of Marin. He is employed at the Madera Pet Hospital in Corte Madera and has been in reserve status with the U.S. Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base for the past year and a half.

He has another sister, Mrs. Robert Shotwell of Novato.

JUST CONTENTED

A sunbonnet, a fresh ear of corn to munch on and a cool spot in the shade are all it takes to make 7-month-old Heather Jones content.

Ghetto Youths Become Teachers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — During a four-week course starting today at City College of San Francisco, 20 youngsters from depressed areas will be teaching 20 instructors from urban junior colleges.

The program, financed by the U.S. Office of Education, is directed by Donald J. Peterson, an English instructor at the college.

It was conceived by Ray Towbis and Derrick Hill, who is a leader in the Mission Rebels, an organization for underprivileged youths.

Towbis and guest speakers will conduct classes in the mornings. But in the afternoons, the 20 youngsters will demonstrate to the teachers what life is like in a ghetto.

Of the 20 teachers taking the course, five are Negroes. "We think black professors also have a lot to learn about minorities," Towbis said.

Respiratory Clinic — No July Patients

No new patients will be accepted during July at the outpatient clinic for respiratory diseases at Marin General Hospital, Dr. Milton K. McDowell, medical director, said.

A new clinic class for sufferers from emphysema, asthma and chronic bronchitis may be formed in August depending on patient needs, he said.

After a rally at Kyunghee University, about 3,000 rock-throwing students battled with police who used tear gas to disperse them.

At Yonsei University, 2,000 students boycotted semester-end examinations and staged a rally on campus. When they tried to march on the streets, riot police blocked them.

More than 500 students have been arrested since the protests began 10 days ago and about 1,000 policemen and students have been injured.

DEAN'S LIST — Catherine N. Cannon, daughter of retired Col. and Mrs. Robin C. Cannon of 890 Tamalpais Avenue, Novato, was among 140 students named to the dean's honor roll for the spring semester at Temple Buell College in Denver, Colo.

COMMAND — Thomas J. Patterson Jr. of 8 Fairwood Court, San Rafael, has assumed command of the Naval Reserve Naval Control of Shipping Organization Division 12-1 at Treasure Island.

DEMOLAY — Brad Breithaupt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Breithaupt of 6 Berens Drive, Kentfield, has been selected to attend the International DeMolay conference in Kansas City, Mo.

Corporation Yard Plans On Agenda

Disposal of part of its present corporation and consideration of a site for a future one will head the San Rafael City Council's meeting at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Old business before the council includes the final actions on sale of part of the city's Francisco Boulevard property to Marin Bay Lincoln Mercury Inc.

The council also will consider adoption of a tentative budget for fiscal 1969-70 and will receive a report on traffic improvements in the central business district from D. Jackson Faustman.

Another report, prepared by Dan Coleman Associates, will be given the council on recommended improvements and additions to the city's sanitary sewer system.

Korean Students Continue Protest

SEOUL (AP) — Korean students took up today where they left off Saturday, demonstrating against proposals for a constitutional amendment that would allow President Chung Hee Park to seek a third term.

After a rally at Kyunghee University, about 3,000 rock-throwing students battled with police who used tear gas to disperse them.

At Yonsei University, 2,000 students boycotted semester-end examinations and staged a rally on campus. When they tried to march on the streets, riot police blocked them.

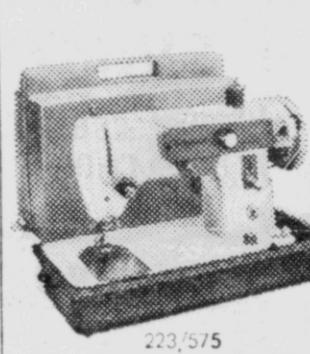

More than 500 students have been arrested since the protests began 10 days ago and about 1,000 policemen and students have been injured.

San Rafael Fire Dept. Scuba Diver Planning New Office Dies Of Bends At Lake Tahoe

Preliminary plans for a proposed San Rafael Fire Department headquarters station near Albert Park have been presented to the San Rafael Fire Commission.

The plans, drawn by Robert W. F. Severin, San Rafael architect, call for an 11,800 square foot building with a dormitory, space for one large truck, two engines and three cars and offices for the top four department officials.

Preliminary cost estimates total $318,600.

The commission took no action on the plans because they are too preliminary, according to Administrative Asst. John T. Goodale.

The commission also discussed on Thursday a request from the San Rafael Elementary School District for a contract for fire protection, triggered by a recent interim report of the Marin County Grand Jury on the lack of structural fire protection in the county.

Commissioner J. Warren Crane was selected to appear before the grand jury to discuss the problem before the commission acts.

I-J Special Report

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE — Donald Clare Riches, 34, of Cresta Circle, Apt. 3, San Rafael, died while scuba diving in South Lake Tahoe Saturday, he El Dorado County sheriff's office said today.

The El Dorado coroner's office said the cause of death was the bends, according to Capt. Richard Lowe of the sheriff's office.

Lowe said Riches and several friends were scuba diving near the entrance to Emerald Bay. After Riches had been under about 10 minutes, he surfaced and it appeared he was trying to adjust his face mask, Lowe said.

Riches, an analyst for Standard Oil for the last 10 years, then sank, witnesses reported. One of his companions, Clarence B. Macdonald, of 333 Mount Shasta Drive, San Rafael, dived in and brought him up, Lowe said.

Attempts to revive Riches by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and with a resuscitator failed and he was dead on arrival at Barton Memorial Hospital.

He is survived by his mother, Ruth Riches of Aumsville, Ore., and a sister, Janice McIlroy.

Funeral will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the First Christian Church in Salem, Ore.

Novato Wife Booked In Shooting Probe

Connie Abercrombie, 55, a Novato housewife, was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder after she allegedly shot her husband at their home Saturday.

Mrs. Abercrombie was held in lieu of $12,250 bail after she was released from Novato General Hospital where she was treated for an overdose of pills.

Her husband, Robert, a retired Army major, was reported in "generally good" condition at Letterman General Hospital today. Letterman officials said Abercrombie's legs were partially paralyzed as a result of the shooting.

Abercrombie, 56, was shot in the back early Saturday at his home at 5 Harding Drive, police said. They said Mrs. Abercrombie called an ambulance at 5:45 a.m. and was found unconscious when the ambulance arrived.

A .38-caliber revolver was found at the scene, police said.

Youth, 14, Improves After Swim Accident

A 14-year-old Petaluma boy was reported in fair condition today at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital after a three-car pileup on the Waldo Grade, the California Highway Patrol said.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 10:10 p.m. when traffic slowed and Mrs. Pierre's minibus hit the rear of a pickup truck driven by Harry W. Burke, 42, of Richmond, knocking it into a car driven by James L. Pappas, 22, of San Francisco.

Woman Cuts Chin In Three-Car Pileup

Marilyn P. Pierre, 32, of San Francisco, was treated for a cut chin Friday at Marin General Hospital after a three-car pileup on the Waldo Grade, the California Highway Patrol said.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 10:10 p.m. when traffic slowed and Mrs. Pierre's minibus hit the rear of a pickup truck driven by Harry W. Burke, 42, of Richmond, knocking it into a car driven by James L. Pappas, 22, of San Francisco.

Two Persons Drown When Boat Capsizes

A Sausalito woman and a San Francisco man drowned and her husband was presumed drowned Saturday when their 17-foot sailboat capsized in rough weather during races on Monterey Bay.

Dead is Priscilla Reily Dornin, 22, of 30 Marie Street, and missing is her husband, George A. Dornin III, owner of the boat MacLuff, the Coast Guard reported.

The other victim was Richard J. Nagy, a crew member.

Two bodies, clad in float jackets, identified as Mrs. Dornin and Nagy, and the boat were found yesterday about 7.5 miles south of Santa Cruz, the Coast Guard reported. The search for Dornin was suspended at dark.

The boat was one of about 20 in qualifying trials for a race to be held later at Portland.

Fairfax Fire Damage At $25,000

Fire damaged a five-room house today in Fairfax, causing damage estimated at $25,000 by the Fairfax Fire Department.

The blaze at 225 Tamalpais Road started about 12:45 a.m. in an upstairs room of the home owned by James Pilcher and Bill Newton who were sleeping there at the time. The cause was unknown.

Firemen said the upstairs of the house was destroyed and much of the downstairs along with numerous antiques. The house was insured, according to Pilcher.

Thirteen men with two pieces of equipment responded to the call.

Youths Booked In Petty Theft Probe

Two youths were booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of petty theft after they walked out of Disco, 1 Larkspur Plaza, Larkspur, at 1:45 p.m. yesterday with unpaid-for articles in their pockets, police reported.

They are: Michael Andrew Whiting, 18, and Robert Earl Simmons, 20, both of Gate Six near Sausalito, police said. Officers said that Whiting had reportedly taken some solder and Simmons a package of automotive terminals, each item valued at 33 cents.

Lobbyists' Support On Bay Asked

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Sacramento lobbyists, whose clients include a host of powerful economic interests which would like to fill much of San Francisco Bay, have been urged to help win passage of a strong bill to save the bay.

Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park, chairman of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, in an open letter to every registered lobbyist, said, "I can think of nothing that would raise public esteem for your profession more than your public-spirited assistance in helping to obtain passage of a bill to carry out the recommendations of our commission."

Noting that members of other professions devote a portion of their time to public service, Lane said that the lobbyists' help "would unquestionably result in the passage of an effective bill."

Lane, whose commission has been the target of lobbyists' attacks, wryly noted that "we can only admire the ability you have to influence legislation."

Lane suggested. He conceded his proposal was "a novel idea."

Weekend Burglary

Dale Barber of 35 Woodside Lane, Mill Valley, told police someone stole a television, valued at $200, from his home between 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Draftsman Dies In Mill Valley

John George Barnes, 23, of 65 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley, was found dead in his apartment Saturday of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head, according to Dep. Coroner Richard W. Madigan.

Barnes had been dead approximately 24 hours when he was discovered at 5 p.m. by his landlord, who told Mill Valley police he had become worried after not seeing Barnes for several days and let himself into Barnes's apartment.

Police thought the death may have been accidental since apparatus to clean the .22-caliber gun was found near the body.

A native of Connecticut, Barnes had lived in Mill Valley for the past year. He was employed as a draftsman in San Francisco.

He is survived by his father, John Barnes of Clinton, Conn., and two sisters.

Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapels in Mill Valley.

Parked Car Gone

Stephen E. Balzan of 209 El Prado Avenue, San Rafael, reported his 1959 white and bronze Chevrolet, license BKR 988, was stolen yesterday while it was parked at 700 A Street, San Rafael, police said today.

Seven Injured, None Serious, In Collision

Seven persons from two families were injured, none seriously, when their station wagon collided with a milk truck Saturday afternoon near Novato and six of them were ejected by the impact.

California Highway patrolmen reported that a station wagon driven by Vena L. Jenkins, 43, of 35 Laurie Drive, Novato, northbound on Sutro Avenue, collided with a truck driven by Edmund R. McGillicuddy, 33 of 1506 Colwood Drive, Petaluma, eastbound on Novato Boulevard.

Mrs. Jenkins had halted at the intersection of Sutro Avenue and Novato Boulevard and then had started forward when the collision occurred, officers said.

Mrs. Jenkins, who suffered a cut right ear and a left shoulder pain, wasn't ejected, but her six passengers were.

The injured passengers were Joni Jenkins, 11, who suffered multiple cuts, bruises and scrapes and was admitted to Novato General Hospital; Billy Jenkins, 10, and Jeanie Jenkins, 4, who suffered multiple cuts, scrapes and bruises; Betty L. Fisher, 41, of Santa Barbara, who suffered a cut forehead, scrapes and pains of the right leg.

Property Owners Ask BCDC Bills

The Marin Property Owners Association has urged the Legislature to extend the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, but to kill bills that would expand the commission's jurisdiction inland from the shoreline.

Albert Bianchi, president of the association, in a letter last week to legislators, said the proposed expansion of the BCDC's jurisdiction was a separate issue. Both this proposal and the BCDC's master plan for the bay should "be delayed for proper study, public hearings and such appropriate amendments as may be suggested," Bianchi wrote.

"It is a deplorable fact that some militantly conservationist organizations, as concerned and well meaning as they profess to be, are attempting to force adoption of the entire bay plan along with the extension of the commission's life span," he said.

The association's position, adopted by its board of directors last month, puts it behind the only bill that merely extends the life of the commission, SB 117 by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco. The other three surviving bills would expand the BCDC's powers to the shoreline. All four will be heard by the Senate Finance Committee at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Capitol.

Another Colorful Show At Art And Garden Fair

In the number and diversity of garden exhibits, this year's Art and Garden Fair seemed to fall short of some of the past showings.

However, in sheer color and as a crowd pleaser, the five-day show which wound up yesterday lived up to tradition as the top garden and floral display in the Bay Area, if not the state.

The fair manager and staff did a fine job of adapting the theme, "Old New Orleans," to the show without bringing artificiality into what is basically a display of gardens and flowers in natural surroundings.

Some of the art and garden shows of the recent past are remembered for the exquisitely designed landscaping, moss-covered rocks, waterfalls, stone walkways, and torii.

THE OUTSTANDING feature of the 1969 fair was probably color — not only from the gorgeous hues of flowers in full bloom but also from the total effect created by lamps unobtrusively placed among the trees and spreading a soft glow over the entire sylvan scene.

The efforts put in on the little details to lend atmosphere may have gone unnoticed; the brick walls and water fountains, huge iron gates borrowed from private collections, and the old lamps, some of them relics from Europe.

THIS YEAR there seemed to be fewer garden exhibits and more of the trades, vocations and commercial type of booths. We would hate to see any further extension of the commercial type of booths that will inject a carnival atmosphere and detract from the art and garden aspect of the fair.

All in all, the weather, atmosphere and color combined to provide five days and evenings of relaxation to the thousands, many of whom realized this was probably the next to the last showing in the unmatchable setting in Ross.

The show will be held on the same grounds next year, but thereafter, the county plans to move the event onto the Civic Center grounds in Santa Venetia.

Each year, we take the fair for granted. Each year, we expect the displays to be better than the year before and manage to find little deficiencies.

But when the fair eventually moves out of Ross, we're going to miss that woodsy setting, which will be difficult if not impossible to duplicate on flat, bare grounds at the Civic Center.

Deteriorating Sewer System

In the middle of the dry season when sewer lines, uninterrupted by excess runoff water, should be operating at its best, we find raw sewage spewing out into one of the main streets of San Rafael.

Witnesses along Grand Avenue, between Third and Fourth Streets, described the discharge as a complete mess. Apparently the main line along Grand got plugged.

If this can occur in June and July, you can imagine the type of overflow the city gets from its bubbling manholes in the middle of winter when storm runoffs infiltrate and flood the sewer system.

This is just another example of what we meant when we questioned "the sense of priorities that causes the city council to move ahead on firehouses and recreation center before addressing itself to the much more pressing need for proper sanitation.

Major reasons are:

1. The reservoir is in a very narrow, densely wooded cul-de-sac canyon in which the road is not capable of being widened without destroying the very beauty for which some claim so much concern. Following the stream from the reservoir, the road is so narrow and winding that in only a few places can two cars pass. The boy drowned perhaps might have been saved had the ambulance with live-saving equipment not met traffic obstructions.

2. The area has virtually no water to fight fires except that in the reservoir. Nor is this situation remediable in the near future.

Should a fire start at the dam . . . the potential catastrophe is impossible to exaggerate.

Fire equipment attempting to reach the area over the narrow, winding road blocked by residents attempting to escape could result in the death of many people, including those foolish enough to demand their rights to enjoy "the beauties of nature."

Not only could the whole canyon be destroyed, but in a high wind the city of Mill Valley could be threatened.

We hope the city council will take the strongest measures possible to prevent such a holocaust.

However, in the case of the

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fire At Cascade Is Chief Concern

The purpose of this letter is to explain — while not claiming to speak officially for them — the position of residents of the Cascade dam area of Mill Valley who do not feel that recent safety measures taken by the city council are "repressive."

They concern fire and saving lives, not interference with individual rights to enjoy the beauties of nature.

Leaving without comment the long history of abuses involving "morals," potentially fatal traffic encounters on the road which has been used as a speedway, sanitary conditions, and even the recent drowning, we wish to point up the No. 1 problem — fire.

Major reasons are:

1. The reservoir is in a very narrow, densely wooded cul-de-sac canyon in which the road is not capable of being widened without destroying the very beauty for which some claim so much concern. Following the stream from the reservoir, the road is so narrow and winding that in only a few places can two cars pass. proposed San Rafael Community Recreation Center, I feel that deferment means abandonment of the project entirely since our present inflationary economy is adding about 10 per cent per year to the cost of building construction. If we don't build now, we don't build period.

Any citizen who has knowledge of the present "temporary" facilities at Second and Brooks streets would certainly agree that to permanently sentence our senior citizens, teen-agers, and young adults to this former PG&E warehouse labeled "San Rafael Community Recreation Center" would be tragic.

The construction of a bonafide Community Recreation Center worthy of the name of San Rafael has been city policy for many years, and consequently the San Rafael Goldenaires Senior Citizen Club has been relentlessly and resourcefully raising money to contribute to the building fund. Their efforts are tremendously appreciated, but to be realistic the sum is pitifully small compared to that required.

Theatre players, is an experience well worth seeing. The daring structure of plot, excellent music, technical innovations alone make it a "must see" entertainment for the playgoer. True, some tightening up and judicious cutting are needed, but it is far and away superior to the typical pap presented in this country.

The cut smart aleck review in the I-J of "I Wish I Were a Trumpet" was a disservice to your readers as it contained gross distortions of the play's content and quality.

We Are Overkilling Ourselves With Technological Revolution

Americans sometimes overdo what we do well. It might be said that we have the tendency to "overkill." Our enthusiasm for doing sometimes endangers our being.

That fact is brought home by some of the effects of the scientific and technological revolution which can be described as the single most important happening in the world today.

It can be argued that we are really being overkilled — using the more literal translation of the word — because we fail to understand why this revolution threatens the human environment.

Consider this vicious cycle:

We have found that sewage treatment systems cause pollution problems because we did not consider the effects of treated wastes on lakes and streams. Present sewage treatment techniques are designed to purify surface waters of organic wastes by converting them to innocuous products. That system works. Technology makes it possible.

WE FAILED to give enough attention to the fact that green algae plants grow on the phosphates and nitrates from the sewage plant discharges. The problem is compounded when we use highly concentrated nitrogen fertilizers which drain out of the soil into our lakes and rivers, increasing the organic growth of green plants and increasing pollution.

As if this were not enough, a further complication arises when our current smog and smoke control techniques also convert gases in the air to nitrates which are brought down to our waters by rain and snow. The result: more pea soup water.

In the meantime, the long term use of concentrated chemical fertilizers tend to alter the physical property of soils and thus reduce their productivity.

America does not have unlimited resources. We cannot afford to be vague about our needs. And there appears to be no reason why we should not require of ourselves the same technological effort that it took to get man to the moon to insure that after he gets there it will be worthwhile to come back.

sue of survival. We seem to be overkilling ourselves in a wide variety of ways.

As Commoner says, "We speak of the new technological man in the new technological age, a man who looks at computers and understands a complex language. When a biologist looks at the new technological man he thinks of him as someone who, unlike the old fashioned man, carries strontium nitrate in his bones, iodine 131 in his thyroid, DDT in his fat, and asbestos in his lungs."

THE SPEED with which we can apply technological achievements on a broad scale has accelerated sharply. But it still takes years to find the effect on man. It took ten years or more, for example, to discover the increased rate of lung cancer among uranium miners. Such incidents should give us pause when we are asked to approve the use of a powerful new pesticide which has "no observable effect" on human beings. The real test will come when the unobserved effects become visible.

Our preoccupation with getting more energy out of fossil fuels and the atom — with getting more speed out of our transportation system, with getting more use out of a gallon of water, with getting more food out of the soil, with getting more relief from repetitive tasks — must be matched with preoccupation with the future of man.

What will be the sum effect of our technological achievements? Will the effect of the whole be greater than the sum of the parts, or will it diminish the quality of life and man's capacity to survive?

It is very late to be asking these questions about the interaction of man and his environment, but we must ask them and act on the answers.

IN ELABORATING on these phenomena, biologist Barry Commoner recently pointed out to a Congressional committee that the results of tinkering with our delicate, vastly complicated biosphere — or machine of life — may be so serious as to raise the very is-

ABM Experts Want Bang For Many Bucks Spent

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — What with one thing and another, the Pentagon has already spent "slightly under $5 billion" on developing a defense against missiles.

That is the staggering price tag which is being supplied privately to interested congressional committees. It represents research and development expenditures, over the years, by the Army, Navy, Air Force and the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

SHIFTING SCIENTIST — Safeguard supporters disclosed last week, without comment, that Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, a leading scientist-opponent of the presently proposed ABM deployment, had favored an anti-missile system in the late 1950s when the missile race was just beginning.

Wiesner, professor and provost at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was one of the experts recently commissioned by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to prepare a book-length attack on President Nixon's Safeguard proposal.

Wiesner's former view was disclosed with the publication of a pro-Safeguard statement by Robert C. Sprague, founder and chairman of the Sprague Electric Company. Sprague succeeded H. Rowan Gaither as director of the so-called Gaither Committee which studied defense posture in 1967.

THE GAITHER Committee, after an exhaustive study of deterrent forces which involved more than 100 full and part-time participants, made a top-secret report to President Eisenhower and the National Security Council. Sprague stressed that the Gaither report was the unanimous product of an 11-man steering committee.

It is particularly interesting at this time that one of the highest priority recommendations was for an ABM system to protect our SAC (Strategic Air Command) bases against a possible future Russian missile attack — in other words, a "Safeguard" missile defense system! said Sprague.

Another proposed compromise would provide a full "pilot" Safeguard deployment — with missile tests — but on one of the islands in the Pacific missile range. That would further swell the development totals without doing anything to

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A MISS CULBERTSON took a shine to a puppy cowering in a pet shop window and entered the shop to inquire about the pup's pedigree. "The mother," the proprietor told her earnestly, "is a pure-bred Scottie. As for the father — well, the father comes from a very good neighborhood."

Now that they're rating these sexy new films by various letters to indicate the age groups for which they are allegedly designed, movie house cashiers find themselves with an added responsibility. For one charming film featuring seven nudes and eight perverts, a group of six very youthful girls demanded entrance on the ground that they all were over 18 — the legal age at which they were supposed to be admitted. The cashier took their word as gospel and let them buy tickets.

"I've seen folks in trouble wring their hands — hands they could have been using to overcome the trouble."

"How can you judge whether or not kids can be allowed in for one of these 'Nobody under 18 admitted' films?" she asked.

"It's easy," vouchsafed the cashier. "If there's no cop around, they're over 18."

The late Tallulah Bankhead worried about a slight loss of her incredible vitality, once appealed to her leading radio writer, Goody Ace, "Darling, do I look 45?" The unfeeling Goody replied, "Not any more."

Are More Shakeups Coming On County Planning Commission?

The appointment of Jack G. Nixon may be only a prelude to major reorganization of the Marin County Planning Commission.

A check of the commission roster reveals that the terms of three more of the seven-member group — Chairman Michael Praszer of Mill Valley, Walter F. Freitas of San Rafael and Niels Schultz Jr. of Greenbrae — will expire next year. Commission appointments are made by the board of supervisors.

Another four-year term may be out of reach for Schultz, whose family developed Greenbrae. He represents the second supervisorial district on the commission and thus will be at the mercy of Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni, who has an uncontested nomination privilege. Arrigoni and Schultz do not agree on planning issues, with Schultz generally expressing more conservative views.

Freitas and Praszer are at-large appointees, and any member of the board of supervisors may nominate for these positions.

LIKE DR. William F. Upton, who Nixon replaced, Schultz is a veteran commissioner, having served 14 years, two less than Upton.

Freitas, an attorney, has been a commissioner since 1967 when he was appointed by 3-2 vote to finish the term of architect Claude Stoller, who resigned. Freitas also embraces conservative opinions on planning issues.

Praszer, a foundation and soils engineer, was first appointed in 1966. He frequently casts swing votes on crucial issues.

Safe in their commission seats for the time being are Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach, whose term expires in 1971; Margaret B. Azevedo of Tiburon, scheduled to serve until 1973, and Eugene R. Trombley of Novato, secure until 1972.

ARRIGONI, incidentally, has a new place for the supervisors to hold their meetings — the padded cells in the new Hall of Justice.

When Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows told the board recently that it had approved $13,000 in jail cell padding as part of the 1970 fiscal budget, Arrigoni and Supervisor Louis H. Baar were startled.

"We should hold our board meetings there," Arrigoni said abruptly.

"It'd be a pleasure to spend some time there," said Baar.

Chairman John F. McInnis was irritated at the same time over a request by project architect Aaron Green for a change in the covering on the jail padding — at a cost of $1,200. He asked Sheriff Louis P. Mountainos to appear before the board to justify the expense.

IT HAS BEEN a year since we prowled the Civic Center beat, but not much has changed here. Skirts are up, but hair is down. The picture of Jayne Mansfield in the press room is down, but one of a tumbledown ferryboat is up. The budget's up, but roaming dogs are down.

With all the talk of code violations, substandard utility poles, underwater streets and houseboats which are not really houseboats, the Waldo Point situation becomes confusing.

But at least one Marin resident, in a letter to the board of supervisors, has tried — albeit emotionally — to put the issue in perspective.

SHE WROTE, "in my humble opinion, it is time you

Ferry Study Due Transportation Group

The San Francisco-Marin Water Transportation Study Committee will be told formally tomorrow that a ferry system from San Quentin or Paradise Cay to the Ferry Building in San Francisco is feasible.

Arthur D. Little Inc., study consultants, made that preliminary report to the committee on ferry service May 28, but will make a final presentation at the group's meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the administration building of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Brandywine Creek Was Not Always So Peaceful

It was one of those low, gray drizzly days, with bulging clouds hanging heavily, hugging the Pennsylvania hills. My first officer, the engineer and I were driving from Harrisburg east to Wilmington, Delaware. The drive is about three hours, give or take a little, but with rain and Brandywine Creek we made it in four.

The rain had fallen since dawn, a quiet steady downpour. When we came to the creek I pulled over and stopped. The deep black water was moving slowly. A rich green grass covered the banks. Birches grew along the water's edge and across the flat ground to where the hills began. The grass was short and the trees were widely scattered as if they had been planted in a park.

"WHAT'RE YOU stopping for?" Rick asked. He was the first officer. Chuck, the engineer, was asleep in the back.

"Brandywine Creek" I said. "I want to look at it." "We'll be late." "That airplane isn't going anywhere without us."

We were to take a flight back to the west coast, and that was home, and Rick anxious to get on with it, but Brandywine Creek is Brandywine Creek, and how often do you get a chance to see it?

Brandywine!

ON THE morning of Sept. 11, 1777, Washington's militia was strung out along that slender stream forming a front some three miles long waiting for the British troops to come — 13,000 men with wagons and caissons.

Looking at the Brandywine, seeing it a peaceful slow-moving stream winding through the parklike countryside, watching the rain falling softly and the leaves hanging heavily, glistening with the wet, I had difficulty imagining that hot, sultry day so many years ago.

IT HAD BEEN a bad day for the Americans. Dispatches to General Washington concerning the enemy's movements were contradictory and unreliable. The attack began and soon the banks were strewn with dead, British red coats, Hessian blue coats and American revolutionaries. The pounding of horses' hoofs, the sound of the big guns firing grape-shot, musket shots, shouts, screams filled the humid air. Smoke rose lazily in the sunlight and the smell of gunpowder was everywhere. Upturned wagons, broken rifles and carcasses of cavalry horses grotesquely cluttered the fields. By nightfall, the Americans, exhausted, hungry and badly wounded, were thrown back.

From the Battle of Brandywine my mind went on to other despairing events that followed — Paoli, Germantown, then winter and Valley Forge. Washington said: "You might have tracked the army to Valley Forge by the blood of their feet."

HEAVY SNOWS came. Then the temperatures plummeted and Pennsylvania's bitter cold set in. Illness, hunger and frost.

bite, infection, body sores and amputations is the story of Valley Forge. Yet the army, miraculously, held together.

When spring came, the Americans emerged from that bleak valley and with dogged perseverance they finally made Yorktown and victory. And then I thought of Washington's words to his men on that day:

"My brave fellows, let no sensation of satisfaction for the triumphs you have gained, induce you to insult your fallen enemy — let no shouting, no clamorous huzzing increase their mortification. It is sufficient that we witness their humiliation. Posterity will huzza for us."

Police Arrest 19 In Angry Crowd

EAST PALO ALTO (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies were injured and 11 adults and eight juveniles were arrested yesterday when a crowd gathered to protest a traffic arrest.

Gary D. Stickland, 19, was booked on charges of assault with a deadly weapon after deputies said he threw a steel oil drum that hit Sgt. Ervin L. Pronske and David Lynch, both San Mateo County sheriff's deputies.

Lynch was taken to Stanford University Hospital for observation and Pronske got 18 stitches at Sequoia Hospital in Redwood City.

Hall Of Justice Rounds Into Shape At Civic Center

HALL OF JUSTICE—Looming in the foreground ground is the Hall of Justice at the Marin Civic Center, scheduled to open this fall, a massive wing which dwarfs the administration building in the background. The hall, which will house the county jail, courtrooms and sheriff's office, signals the eventual abandonment of the old county courthouse in downtown San Rafael.

VIEW FROM JAIL—The peaceful setting of the Civic Center lagoon and the Gallinas Creek area beyond provide the view from the jail floor at the Hall of Justice, a vast improvement from the surroundings of the jail now in the basement of the old courthouse.

LONG CORRIDORS—Lawyers, clients and law officers will be traveling along these spacious corridors leading to the courtrooms. At left are two municipal courtrooms, and down the hall a workman applying a finishing coat of paint.

DAILY Independent Journal Est. 1861
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

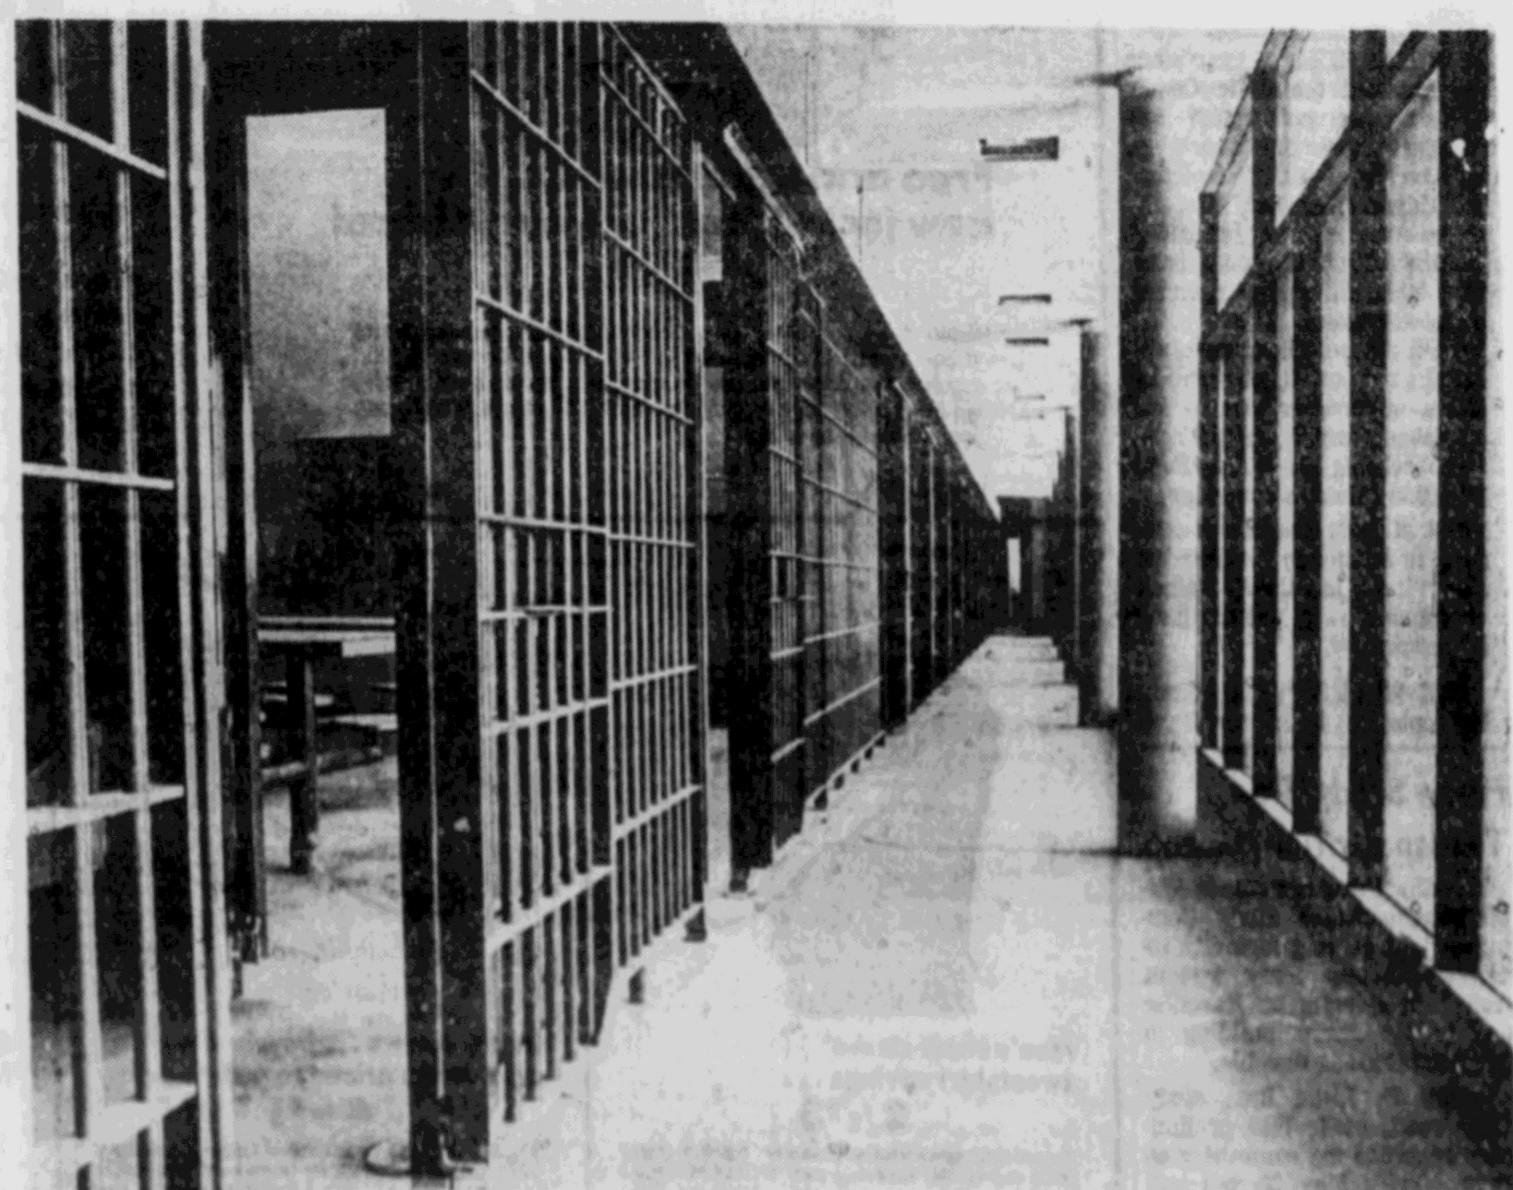

22 Independent-Journal, Monday, July 7, 1969

A TYPICAL CELL—Two bunks, bars, and a combination sink and commode form the bare surroundings of a cell where those sentenced to county jail serve their time.

section, which is much more spacious and airy than the current jail in the old courthouse in downtown San Rafael.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m.—"Operation Breadbasket" is an hour long documentary examining a black self-help project that has achieved notable success in Chicago. The program is part of the "Time for Americans" series and is narrated by Robert Cluj.

KPIX (5), 8:30 p.m.—"No Butts About It" is a half-hour special of the positive aspects of giving up the habit of cigarette smoking.

KRON (4), 9 p.m.—"Monday Night at the Movies" presents the drama, "Trial Run," starring James Franciscus, Diane Baker, Janice Rule and Leslie Nielsen.

KQED (9), 10:20 p.m.—"No Gun Towers, No Fences" is a look at an innovative experiment in juvenile correction at the Robert F. Kennedy Youth Center in Morgantown, W.Va.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Critics, Too, Have Their Favorites

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Sometimes it may not seem like it, but critics also have favorite television shows among the very commercial series presented in prime time.

And for those readers who write in from time to time with the usual charges of snobism, this seems a good time to surprise a few people by noting some of the series this viewer enjoys—more shows, perhaps, than they'd expect.

I am pleased, for instance, that CBS-TV's "The Good Guys" is returning next season. Good slapstick comedy, and good slapstick comedians, are hard to find, and personally would rather enjoy a belly laugh than most of the heavyhanded social humor that passes for sophisticated nowadays. And in "The Good Guys," Herb Edelman and Bob Denver are funny fellows.

I'm also happy Jackie Gleason is coming back. Next season NBC-TV is putting Andy Williams up against him. And my own hunch is that if Gleason gets Art Carney to team up with him again steadily, the Williams entry might have a more disappointing ratings record than some observers suspect. I would not, in fact, be too surprised if Gleason beats Williams rather badly in the numbers game.

"Daniel Boone" is the essence of simplicity, and aims to do a job unpretentiously, and I have a great admiration for Fess Parker in the leading role. He is just about the perfect star for this kind of series, just as Steve McQueen, in his own way, is just about the perfect movie star.

New Whooping Crane On View

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Firecracker, the world's newest addition to the whooping crane population, was viewed yesterday by hundreds of people who trooped by its cage in the San Antonio Zoo's birdhouse.

Firecracker was hatched Saturday and boosted to 69 the known whooper population.

Zoo spokesmen said the offspring of Rosie and Crip probably would be moved to the Patuxent, Md., wildlife refuge where the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has 12 of the young birds.

Zoo attendants said they would have to wait awhile to determine Firecracker's sex.

I never tire of Ed Sullivan's honest enthusiasm for the entertainers on his show, and the singer-comedian is a constant delight as the host. On the other hand, I can live without Doris Day and Carol Burnett, but readers of this column know I'm a steady viewer of "Gunsmoke" and think Lucille Ball is the essence of professionalism, a fine thing to watch simply if you love a consummate show business star.

I am pleased, for instance, that CBS-TV's "The Good Guys" is returning next season. Good slapstick comedy, and good slapstick comedians, are hard to find, and personally would rather enjoy a belly laugh than most of the heavyhanded social humor that passes for sophisticated nowadays. And in "The Good Guys," Herb Edelman and Bob Denver are funny fellows.

I'm also happy Jackie Gleason is coming back. Next season NBC-TV is putting Andy Williams up against him. And my own hunch is that if Gleason gets Art Carney to team up with him again steadily, the Williams entry might have a more disappointing ratings record than some observers suspect. I would not, in fact, be too surprised if Gleason beats Williams rather badly in the numbers game.

"Bonanza" isn't one of my favorite shows, but I'll watch it if Dan Blocker is starring in an episode. And, in the same way, I'll watch "The Name of the Game" if Susan Saint James has a juicy role. If "The High Chaparral" features Henry Darrow or Linda Cristal in a segment, I'll tune in if I can. And the attitude of "Laugh-In" is very winning.

"Daniel Boone" is the essence of simplicity, and aims to do a job unpretentiously, and I have a great admiration for Fess Parker in the leading role. He is just about the perfect star for this kind of series, just as Steve McQueen, in his own way, is just about the perfect movie star.

Added Cargo Is Found In Auto

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Dorothy Carter told police someone must have borrowed her car overnight.

Police agreed. When she started to work in the early morning she found two television sets, 23 bottles of whiskey, two boxes of cigars and a locked tool box, all strange items, inside the car.

Police picked up the loot and waited for someone to report a theft.

A burglary was committed every 20 seconds during 1967, according to the FBI.

Servants Cost More In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Whites in South Africa spend more than twice as much of their family budgets on servants than families in any other country.

A Witwatersrand University survey reported that in no other country do servants take more than 1.5 per cent of an average family budget. South African families spend 3.2 per cent of their budgets for this country's plentiful black servants.

Black Lung Disease

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — An interim subcommittee has been chosen to come up with recommendations on black lung disease of miners for the 1970 Kentucky Legislature.

British Trade Sweats Bolstering Economy

LONDON (AP) — Sweet news for Britain's ailing trade figures — the confectionery industry boosted its exports last year by a record 23 per cent to just over 30 million pounds ($72 million).

Exports to dollar-area markets accounted for well over a third of sales at 11.7 million pounds ($28.1 million).

More Italians On Birth Control

ROME (AP) — Sales of birth control pills in Italy have doubled since Pope Paul VI banned all contraceptives for Roman Catholics a year ago, a Ministry of Health survey indicates.

Prof. W. Inquilla of the University of Rome said yesterday more than 24 million pills were sold in the past year in this Mediterranean nation of 55 million.

About 90 per cent of the Italians are baptized as Catholics but many do not practice their religion.

Inquilla said the figures showed one Italian woman in 10 takes the pill compared with one in 15 or 20 in Anglo-Saxon countries.

$6.59 A Pound For Cigarettes?

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — A Salina supermarket has posted a sign for customers who complain about the rising cost of groceries:

"If you think beef is high, cigarettes are $6.59 a pound."

Angels Having Troubles; Priddy Sold

ANAHEIM (AP) — The California Angel's Bob Priddy, 29-year-old right-handed pitcher, was sold outright to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League last night.

Observers said Priddy threw one too many critical remarks at Manager Lefty Phillips.

Priddy, an ex San Francisco Giant, who was acquired in a trade May 15 along with infielder Sandy Alomar from the Chicago White Sox for second baseman Bobby Knoop, popped off at Phillips in the lobby of the Knickerbocker Hotel in Chicago Saturday night.

"Priddy was little by little poisoning the minds of our younger players," Phillips told the Los Angeles Times earlier. "He did his job as a pitcher, but he wasn't satisfied with that."

"He wanted to be pitching coach. I think he wanted to be the manager. He criticized the coaches, his teammates and myself. He broke a code. I lost all respect for him."

Priddy told the Times he'd "become stereotyped. My career wasn't going anywhere. I didn't mind being a mop-up man, but on this club I was a mop-up man to other mop-up men."

Priddy, preparing to leave for his home in San Francisco, said: "I could no longer play for Lefty Phillips. I've played for many managers, but he's the worst."

Another Angel, a regular, said: "Phillips is conducting a reign of terror. Suppose you go to dinner after a night game. Suppose the service is slow. Hell, you better get up and go back to the hotel. It's a constant fear that if you are late, if you make a mistake, you'll be fined."

Phillips, who replaced Bill Rigney, fired shortly after the season began, fined pitcher Phil Ortega $500 last week for reportedly being in a hotel lobby with his undershorts on.

In another matter involving the Angels, the Times said they learned that president Bob Reynolds will soon resign.

The Times said Gene Autry, chairman of the board, is about to take a stronger hand in the operation of his team.

A's Glad To Get Out Of Minnesota

CHICAGO (UPI) — Thank goodness, the Oakland Athletics won't have to face Harmon Killebrew and the Minnesota Twins again for another two months.

The crucial three-game weekend set in Minneapolis-St. Paul was disastrous for the A's and Killebrew was the man who powered the sweep and put the Twins two games up on Oakland in the American League West.

Killebrew's three-game totals came to an awesome 10 runs batted in on eight hits, including four home runs. The 10 RBIs raised his major league-leading total to a whopping 82.

BEST FOR LAST

And in typical Killebrew fashion, he saved his best shot for the last. It came in the seventh inning yesterday when he clubbed his 23rd home run of the season with Tony Oliva aboard to change a one-run deficit to a 7-6 Minnesota victory.

Oakland, with John Odom

by a pitch. He moved to second on a wild pitch and scored on Cesar Tovar's hit. After a walk and infield groundouts produced the second run, Oliva singled in the fifth run and set the stage for Killebrew's blast.

HOME RUNS

Oakland had taken the four-run lead on a three-run homer by Danny Cater and a solo shot by Dick Green.

Joe Grzenda (3-1) gained credit for the win with Ron Perranoski chalking up his 15th save with two shutout innings. Reliever Rollie Fingers took the loss, his fifth against three wins.

For the series, Minnesota scored 30 runs and tagged Oakland pitchers for 43 hits. Oliva went 9-for-13 with four RBIs and Rod Carew chased in another six markers.

The A's open a three-game set in Chicago tonight with Jim Nash (4-5), who'll use a no-windup motion, returning to the starting rotation for Oakland against White Sox lefty Gary Peters (5-9).

Top Spot For Italian Club '9'

Roger Smith did something about the tangled mess in the Southern Division of the Marin area Joe DiMaggio League.

Smith, top pitcher for Redwood High School's baseball team this spring, threw a neat three-hitter at Toby's Truckers yesterday, giving the Italian Club a 2-0 win and sole possession of first place with a 5-2 record.

Toby's dropped to second with a 5-3 mark.

A double by Pete Cooney and an run-scoring single by Jim Keigwin was all that was needed for Smith.

The Mill Valley Chiefs, still 4-3, couldn't do anything about the turn of events. Their game with Holiday Magic was axed because a field wasn't available to play on.

TO SECOND

IN NORTH

In the North, Annex Motors continued unchecked, blasted Healdsburg, 15-6 for a 7-1 record. Ken Gross had four hits in the romp as Annex Motors, winning its seventh in a row, rolled up a 10-0 lead in the first three innings.

Herb's Pool Service, now 3-4-1, topped San Anselmo, 5-2, in the only other game played. Five innings of shutout relief pitching by Doug Beyer and six stolen bases paved the way for the victory.

Marin Country Club Has Veteran In Champs Tourney

(First of a series on entrants in Sunday's Marin County Golf Tournament of Champions.)

Orville Suttles, 54-year-old Marin Country Club golf champ, says he's glad he'll be able to use an electric golf cart at the Marin County Golf Tournament of Champions Sunday.

"At least they had better let me use one," the veteran golfer laughed. "I get all the exercise I need working on the golf course. I don't have to walk it."

Suttles is not only club champ at Marin Country Club in Novato, he's the course superintendent there. He defeated Kai Thomsen in the finals of the club tournament, last October.

SINCE 1922

The lanky Suttles, a native of Missouri, has been in the golf trade since 1922 when he caddied in Stockton. And he's been involved in tournament golf since a teen.

"But I've been out of tournament golf for about 15 years," said Suttles. "And I haven't been playing much golf at all lately. I've been too busy on the course." He said he has been played a round there . . . shot a 74. It's a real fine test of golf over there. It's one of the best courses in the northern part of the state."

A four-handicapper, Suttles says he doesn't rely on power in his game, "I just go a straight and narrow path."

A veteran player in the California State Amateur Golf Championships, he made it to the quarter-finals "a few times." Last time he competed in the state amateur was 1948.

TITLES

Among his golfing victories, Suttles won the city title in Stockton nine times and was champ of Midland, Tex., before coming to California.

The 6-foot 2 1/2-inch, 150-pound Suttles came to Marin Country Club in April of 1968. Prior to that he was at Stockton Golf and Country Club and Woodbridge Country Club in Lodi. He and wife Ellen make their home in Bel Marin Keys.

"I'm really looking forward to playing in Sunday's tournament," Suttles said. "It should be a lot of fun."

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, July 7, the 188th day of 1969 with 177 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1846 Commodore J.D. Moat of the U.S. Navy proclaimed the annexation of California by the United States.

In 1889 President William McKinley signed a joint resolution of congress authorizing the annexation of Hawaii by the United States.

In 1941 President Franklin D. Roosevelt told Congress that U.S. Naval forces, to forestall a possible Nazi invasion, had landed in Iceland with permission of that government.

In 1964 14 persons were killed in an avalanche in the French Alps.

A thought for the day: Mathew Henry once said: "None so blind as those who will not see."

Launching Ramp Report Due

A discussion on progress toward installation of a boat launching ramp along Corte Madera Creek is on the agenda for the Larkspur Parks and Recreation Commission when it meets Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The ramp is proposed for an area near the Greenbrae underpass.

The commission also will consider tree removal on Oak Road, Marin bicycle trails and summer recreation program.

Blind Expert 'Sees' Right Bid, Then Executes For Slam

Several blind bridge players have become Life Masters in the last few years, but nobody who was there will forget the scene when Dr. Arthur M. Dye, of Charlotte, N.C., became the first blind Life Master. All of the players at the national tournament in New Orleans in 1956 stood up and cheered when Dr. Dye received his gold card.

SAW BID

In today's hand, taken from that national tournament, Dr. Dye "saw" the correct bid in a very complicated situation. The problem was what to do when West's leap to six clubs was passed around to him.

Dr. Dye felt the Braille markings on his cards and thought longingly of doubling six clubs in the hope of winning tricks with his two aces. The trouble was that West had made a cue-bid in spades and had then jumped to six clubs. If West could be trusted, the ace-king of spades were worthless for defense.

After some thought Dr. Dye decided to believe the cue-bid. He went on to six spades, expecting to be defeated.

SHREWD DECISION

It was a shrewd decision, for East would have made six clubs against any defense. (In fact, East would have made seven against any lead but the ace of diamonds.)

Dr. Dye earned an unexpected reward when West's opening lead of the ace of hearts allowed him to make the slam in spades. West won the first trick and shifted to a club, but it was too late.

RUFFS

Dr. Dye ruffed the club, drew one trump with the ace, ruffed a heart in dummy and led the jack of spades for a finesse. After drawing trumps, he ruffed another heart in dummy to begin the diamonds. The king of diamonds showed up, and the rest was easy.

West could have defeated the slam by opening clubs. He would get in with the ace of hearts to lead another club. This would force South to ruff twice,

Newport Beach Yacht Sales To Open Sausalito Branch

A Newport Beach yacht sales and service company, Balboa Marina, is planning to expand its operations into Northern California and to open sometime this month at Clipper Yacht Harbor on Harbor Drive, Sausalito.

The company, owned by William Fox and Dennis Williams, handles Grand Banks cruisers and motor yachts and will berth a number of models in Sausalito. Fox, who has been active in boating circles almost 25 years, will be manager.

Name of the Sausalito business may be changed — probably to some variation on Balboa Marina — why not Balboa Marina?

A NEW GIFT SHOP opened at 328 Strawberry Town and Country Village in Southern Marin is called Three Rams Imports — a first retail venture for a young Novato couple, Craig and Pauline Steen.

Three Rams specializes in jade jewelry, marbleware and other items — all from Taiwan. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays — with evening hours to some on Wednesdays.

"CALIFORNIA'S POPOVER QUEEN" is the title bestowed upon Mrs. Mary Harkins of Mill Valley by Bakers Weekly, a trade magazine of the baking industry.

Mrs. Harkins who started using her Mill Valley restaurant El Paseo to launch a successful frozen food business selling to Northern California food markets, is the subject of a cover photograph and feature article in the June 23 issue of the magazine.

She still uses the restaurant kitchen to produce 200 to 300 cases of popovers a month. This is far short of the demand, but so far she has refused to accept all offers for the Mary Harkins Popovers name and formula by large producers, "because they want to use processed eggs and processed ingredients and the popovers won't be the same."

She continues mixing the flour herself and does most of the pouring and all the baking — a critical process involving exact oven heat and timing. And apparently she intends to go on doing this herself until some large frozen food organization gives in to her insistence on quality control.

TWO MARIN SCIENTISTS, Dr. I. E. Levine of Belvedere, vice president, special products department, of Chevron Research Co., and Dr. W. G. Toland of San Rafael, vice president, research and development, of Chevron Chemical Co., have received Chemical Pioneer Awards from the American Institute of Chemists for their work on Chevron's phthalic anhydride process now used in commercial production.

LARRY B. FOTCHMAN of San Rafael is co-owner of a new business in Brisbane called F and P Distributors. It represents the Kendall Corp. as a stock distributor to wholesalers, large contractors, builders, industrial organizations and institutions. Kendall is a manufacturer of Band-aids and other items. Fotchman was formerly with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for eight years.

Commonwealth Assets Told

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Assets of Commonwealth National Bank were $67,689,851 as of June 30, compared with $38,981,715 on June 30 of last year.

The increase reflected the consolidation with First San Francisco Bank in 1968 and acquisition of Lincoln National Bank, Santa Rosa, in June of this year.

Commonwealth deposits were $58,754,493 on June 30, compared with $31,434,869 a year ago. Loans were $40,894,046, compared with $23,548,382 last year.

NOW COLLECT "EXTRA CASH" FOR BEING IN THE HOSPITAL

YES! "EXTRA CASH" PAID DIRECT TO YOU!

- "EXTRA CASH" THAT'S ALL 100% TAX FREE!
- "EXTRA CASH" TO SPEND AS YOU PLEASE!
- "EXTRA CASH" OVER AND ABOVE ANY OTHER HOSPITAL INSURANCE, EVEN MEDICARE!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash

In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate...they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family
Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead...money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen will call. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"!

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 65 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental and insurance professions.

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:
50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS ..if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

For People on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan ..... $2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan ..... 3.50
Male on any Plan ..... 3.50 son whatsoever you change your mind you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar.

IMPORTANT: We can only accept your enrollment if it is postmarked on or before the date shown below. But please don't wait until the last moment.

The sooner we receive your form, the sooner The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover you. You risk nothing by acting promptly. You may lose hundreds of dollars in "extra cash" benefits through needless delays. Mail your enrollment form today!
